Session May Bring Hospitalization Plan for Province

Early B.C. Action Indicated As Move by Dominion Unlikely

An important new measure to set up a hospitalization scheme on a contributory basis throughout British Columbia may be presented by the Provincial Government during the coming session of the Legislature.

Indications that this is the Government's intention are growing daily at the Legislative Buildings.

So far there has been no official confirmation of the proposal, but it is believed Premier Byron Johnson may have something to say about it when he returns from Ottawa early next week.

Yesterday, Provincial Secretary and Health and Welfare Minister George S. Pearson answered a direct question with: "There are no plans as yet."

Long-standing problems of hospital finance, aggravated by mounting costs of operation and expansion, were one of the main reasons for the Premier's journey to the Federal capital, where he is reported to have had several talks with National Health Minister Paul Martin. So far, Mr. Johnson has remained silent on the outcome of discussions.

Belief is held here that there is little likelihood of Ottawa doing anything about health insurance on a national scale this year, and that for this reason British Columbia is getting ready to "go it alone" in the hospitalization field.

If a new act is brought down in the House this year, it will not go the length of British Columbia's Health Insurance Act passed in 1936 but not since implemented. It is the Government's contention that full-scale health insurance must be nationally planned.

There has been no indication so far as to how the Government proposes to set up machinery for collection of revenue necessary for establishment of a hospitalization fund.

However, even if collection details were not completed by the time the House meets, there would be nothing to prevent an act being passed as a proclamation measure, to be brought into force whenever final details have been worked out.

New Boost Indicated In Gasoline

Station Operators Would Get Benefit

Chance of a further increase in the retail price of gasoline in British Columbia—this time for service station operators—was indicated today in an address in Vancouver by Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chief of the Provincial Coal and Petroleum Board.

He told the Vancouver branch of the Retail Merchants' Association that the Provincial board thought a one-cent-a-gallon increase for operators should come about "without delay," possibly "sometime this week."

Service station operators said their brief, presented to the Petroleum Board, disclosed justification for their demands.

They said they had experienced sharp wage increases to service station personnel; a 40 to 300 per cent increase in rentals and overhead expenditures, formerly shared by oil companies, had doubled.

The price of gasoline in British Columbia was hiked three cents a gallon last week but both dealers and distributors considered it inadequate.

U.S. General To Aid Greeks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP).—The United States is dispatching one of its top-flight combat generals to help Greece smash its Communist rebellion.

The army announced today Maj.-Gen. James A. Van Fleet has been named commander of all American Army, Air and Navy forces assigned to the Greek mission.

Maj.-Gen. William G. Livesay, who has been serving as head of the mission and the military groups, will retain over-all command. But Livesay henceforth will concentrate on the problems of handling United States supplies furnished under the Greek aid program. The program has the dual aim of enabling Greece to put down the guerrilla revolt and rebuild her war-ravaged economy.

Van Fleet, who the Army says is "no armchair general," will be able to put to use the combat experience gained among such places as the Remagen bridgehead, where the Rhine was first crossed, and other critical battles of the European campaign.

Ottawa May Open Door To Labor Relations Job

OTTAWA, Feb. 6 (CP). — The Dominion is planning to open the door to its taking over labor relations in all Canadian industry with the consent of the provinces, but with some conditions attached, it was learned today.

Permissive legislation will be given the Federal Government in Labor Minister Mitchell's new industrial disputes legislation—the so-called Labor Code—to be introduced in Parliament shortly. But it is not expected to be made effective on any large scale until some unanimity on the question has been achieved among the provinces.

For the moment, the code will give the Dominion jurisdiction over a group of specific national and inter-provincial industries. These will include railways, shipping, communications, radio, canals and air transportation.

Beyond these, the code will open the possibility of the Federal Labor Department taking over industrial relations in any and all industries, just as it did during the war. In each case, however, provincial consent will be required.

The latitude allowed in the Federal statute will be wide. It will allow the Dominion to take over any single industry in any province so long as the Government of that province wants it.

But in practice, it is learned, the statute won't work that way. If it is to take over any industry, the Government will insist it will want jurisdiction from coast to coast.

That could involve tramping on the tender toe of provincial autonomy in some cases, and the Government is anxious not to impinge on any provincial rights.

The Dominion feels there are several more industries it could take under its wing to the benefit of all concerned.

One of these is coal, an industry with national ramifications, subsidized by the Federal Government, its development guided by the Dominion Coal Board, but its labor relations controlled by provincial governments. But the Labor Department won't move here until it gets a "go" sign from the governments of Nova Scotia, Alberta and British Columbia, the three provinces most directly concerned.

The same goes for the meat-packing industry, which extends into every province.

Prayer Service for Gandhi Begins at City Sikh Temple

—Colonist Photos.

SMUND Singh, Sikh priest, is picture above at the Sikh Temple on Topaz Avenue as he conducted part of a two-day special prayer service in memory of Mohandas K. Gandhi. Four priests are required to conduct the service, which ends Sunday morning. The entire Sikh scripture of the Bible must be read without pause, from start to finish. Outside the temple, the flag of India flies at half-mast.

Theatre Doorman Saves Audience

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6 (CP).—Arnold Morrow, doorman, today helped save 200 persons from possible injury.

When fire broke out in the basement of the downtown State Theatre, he calmly stopped the film, climbed on to the stage and told moviegoers there had been a "hitch" and they would have to leave.

The movie house was cleared in a few minutes. People in the balcony were unaware of the fire and firemen soon had it under control.

Eire Wipes Out De Valera's Dail Majority

DUBLIN, Feb. 7 (Saturday) (AP).—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's majority in the Eire Parliament was wiped out today.

Complete returns from the general election showed that the Irish leader's Fianna Fail Party elected only 66 members, eight short of a majority.

The number elected by combined Opposition groups in Wednesday's balloting totaled 76.

However, Government party leaders were confident that De Valera would draw enough independent votes to continue the regime he has headed for 16 years.

Determination of Fianna Fail's final strength in the Dail must wait for the election of five remaining members of the 147-seat Dail in Carlow-Kilkenny. The death of a nominee there caused a postponement of voting until next Tuesday.

Complete returns for the 142 seats at stake in Wednesday's election with the comparative standing in the old 138-seat Dail:

	Seats Won	Seats Previously Held
Fianna Fail	66	77
Fine Gael	29	28
Labor	14	8
Clann Na Poblachta	10	2
Clann No Talmhan	7	11
National Labor	4	4
Independents	12	8

Before midnight (Dublin time) both supporters and opponents of the Prime Minister agreed he had a good chance of retaining the Government leadership by picking up support from independent and Labor members.

It was regarded as certain that lively debate will ensue when the new Dail convenes Feb. 18. The Dail elects the Prime Minister.

During the campaign De Valera said he would not form a Coalition Government with other parties.

Miners Killed From Blasting

Possibility that the death of two miners at Yalakom late Thursday was due to an explosion was removed yesterday when it was learned here the men had been killed in a blasting accident at the face of the tunnel.

Their deaths raised to five the number of men killed in blasting mishaps in mines of British Columbia since January 1.

A brief telegram to James Strang, provincial chief inspector of mines, said Yalakom, 50 miles north of Lillooet, was a difficult area to reach in Winter, but that officials would attempt to reach the mine today. Party will include Donald Matheson, general manager of Bralorne Mines Ltd., owner of the Yalakom mine, and J. W. Peck, Mines Department inspector.

Names of the men killed were given as George Stewart and T. Tjaeder.

Inquest is expected to be opened at Lillooet Monday.

Legislation Awaited To Boost Pensions

OTTAWA, Feb. 6 (CP).—Within the next two weeks and quite possibly next week, the Government will place before the Commons legislation that will go beyond the bounds of the increases in veterans' disability an dwar widows' pensions announced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King December 5, it was learned today.

The increases, retroactive to October 1, 1947, cannot start until parliamentary approval is given.

The cabinet still is working over the changes it considers necessary in the face of persistent pressure from a veterans' bloc among its own supporters and the thunder of the Opposition.

There is a considerable feeling among Liberal members—some of them call it the hottest intra-party issue of the moment—that there will be a compromise between the 20 per cent jump across the board they have been asking and the amount proposed by Mr. King which works out to ten per cent for a totally disabled, married pensioner.

The December proposal was for an increase of $10 a month for a totally disabled pensioner, who now gets $100 a month if married and pensioned widows who get $60 at the present, plus $15 for the first child, $12 for a second, $10 for a third. There will be proportionately lower increases for lesser pensions.

It has been estimated that the proposal would jump the annual pensions bill about ten per cent above last year's $71,000,000 total. Criticism within the party has dwelled on failure to bring in increases for children and dependents as well as the principals and the amounts suggested.

Members want a flat 20 per cent increase; the Canadian Legion wants 25 per cent. The chances are there will be a compromise offer of something like 15 per cent, with dependents counted in. There are suggestions that the present proposal will stick for single persons.

Policemen Ask Wage Increase

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6 (CP).—Vancouver policemen today asked the Police Commission for pay boosts of $40 a month across the board.

The City Police Union also asked for a 40-hour week instead of the current 44, four shirts annually instead of two and a $200 clothing allowance for plainclothesmen instead of the current $150.

Mayor Charles Jones said, upon receiving the demands: "There is a lot of explosive material here. We should find out what is being done in other Canadian cities before taking any action."

Coming Provincial Session May Add Mennonites to B.C. Electoral Rolls

British Columbia Mennonites, most of them living in the rich Fraser Valley farmlands, may have their names added to the electors' rolls at the next session of the Provincial Legislature.

When the Elections Act was amended last year, providing the vote for Chinese and Hindus "with an adequate knowledge of either the English or French language," the Mennonites remained on the banned list.

Exempted from military duty because of their religious doctrines, a Federal order in council in 1873 prohibited them from voting in any election. The Militia Act of 1904 superseded the orders in council, but continued the exemptions from military service and the ban on voting on members of the sect arriving in Canada before 1904 as well as their descendants.

The Mennonites came from the Ukraine in 1874, fleeing from religious persecution, and today there are more than 100,000 in Canada with 5,000 in the districts surrounding Abbotsford and Chilliwack, 80 miles east of Vancouver.

British Columbia is the only province in the Dominion with a vote-ban on Mennonites. Members of the sect who served in the armed forces during the World War have a vote but many others, who saw service in conscientious objectors' camps because of their faith, are denied that right.

It is understood that conflicting opinions as to their disfranchisement exists in high Government ranks, some Cabinet Ministers arguing they be granted the vote; others contending that the wording of the old Militia Act should be adhered to. Support for the Mennonite franchise comes from Trades Minister Leslie Eyres and George Cruickshanks, Liberal Member of Parliament, both of whom represent constituencies in the Fraser Valley.

The present Election Act also bars Doukhobors, Hutterites and Japanese from the voters' lists.

Braefoot Veterans Held Discrimination Victims

Pearkes States Windsor Project Given Reduction Withheld Here

(Special to The Daily Colonist)

OTTAWA, Feb. 7—Discrimination against veterans on the Braefoot Estate as contrasted to the treatment being given to veterans on the project near Windsor, Ont., was charged in the House of Commons tonight by Major-General George R. Pearkes, V.C.

An independent committee had investigated the Braefoot project and recommended a 20 per cent reduction to veterans occupying the 28 houses, and a special committee, headed by the deputy minister of veterans' affairs, altered that report. Before Christmas, Rt. Hon Ian Mackenzie had stated in the Commons there would be a further downward revision to the veterans, but later in a letter completely changed his mind—a bitter disappointment to Braefoot veterans.

This was not the way veterans on the Windsor project were being treated. Only the other day, the new Minister of Veterans' Affairs, Hon. Milton Gregg, announced that a committee had investigated the Windsor project and the Government was accepting its recommendations for an adjustment to the veterans there.

"A FAIR DEAL"

"Why is there such discrimination when an independent committee reviewed the project at Braefoot?" Gen. Pearkes demanded. "Why is its report discarded and a special committee sent out, headed by the deputy minister, to rewrite the report? What is fair for the veterans of Windsor is fair for the veterans of Braefoot.

"I do not think it is necessary to appoint another committee. The files of the Department of Veterans' Affairs have been loaded with reports and statements regarding the Braefoot project. Let the minister go through those, and let him now give a fair deal to the veterans at Braefoot."

The original and independent committee, on which were a representative of the Canadian Legion and the Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee, went through the Braefoot project thoroughly and turned in its recommendation for a reduction to the veterans of 20 per cent of the cost of the houses. Then there was inserted in the report of this committee, which was not in the report they handed in, that the reduction be made to the director and not to the veterans. This was done by inserting in the committee's recommendation the wards "to the director."

Gen. Pearkes said he held in his hand a letter from a member of this original independent committee that it was thoroughly understood by the committee that the 20 per cent reduction would be made to the veterans themselves.

At the pre-Christmas sittings of Parliament, Mr. Mackenzie had said that there had been downward adjustment and that there would be further adjustments by way of write-off.

Hansard showed Mr. Mackenzie had used these words: "This included the cost of remedial repairs to the houses, a revised selling price." But in a letter he subsequently received from Mr. Mackenzie, Gen. Pearkes continued, the then Veterans' Affairs Minister "completely changed around."

Gen. Pearkes called for a further increase over the pension in raise announced in December which was totally inadequate. "Now if in the middle of December the pension increase was inadequate to meet general costs of living and it was many years since an adjustment was made, it is certainly more inadequate today when we find that the cost of living has even increased since then," he declared.

Fighting Deputy

ALEKOS PAPADOPOULOS

Known as "Epirus' Fighting Deputy," is today one of the most-discussed personalities in Greece. During the German occupation in Epirus he was one of General Zervas' main chieftains and after liberation was elected a deputy. However, he has spent little time on his job at Athens. He was one of the leaders of gendarmerie battalions which fought against the guerrillas and was the first man to enter Konitsa when Government forces broke the ring around that town on New Year's Eve.

Airplane Runs Away From Pilot

OSHAWA, Ont., Feb. 6 (CP).—A pilotless "ghost" plane which took off late today from the ice of Lake Simcoe, about 40 miles northwest of here, made a half-hour cross-country hop and crashed in a farm swamp near Grafton, about 10 miles east of Cobourg.

As the crow flies, it had done about 70 miles on its own, circling until its gas tank ran dry.

The two-place, single-engine Aeronca had been flown from here to the lake by Stan Fraser and Merlin Mackie with the intention to bring back a Cub machine temporarily abandoned a week ago by Mackie and Provincial Constable Harry Kift when the motor froze up while they were fishing through the ice. Each man was to fly a plane back.

Reports reaching here indicated they had completed repairs on the Cub and were ready to leave. Fraser went to the Aeronca and, as is customary, opened the throttle before spinning the propellor and the ski-shod craft moved into action.

Fraser scrambled to get into the cabin but the force of the slipstream had slammed the door and he could not get it open in time. He tried to grab the tail assembly and missed. Then, while the startled pilots watched, the Aeronca nosed gracefully into the wind, taxied briefly and rose into the air.

Fish Packer Swamped Crew Sought

Heavy seas north of Vancouver Island swamped the B.C. Packers' vessel Amaryllis at 12:30 this morning off Scarlet Point, according to information from the Department of Transport wireless station, Gordon Head.

Fishing vessels Bligh Island and Cape Perry are searching for survivors but are hampered by poor visibility due to a blinding snowstorm. No word was learned as to the number of men aboard the vessel.

Will Urge Ban Of Toy Pistols

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6 (CP).—Vancouver Police Chief Walter Mulligan said today he will recommend to the Dominion Police Chiefs' convention here next week that steps be taken to ban the sale of toy guns and pistols in Canada.

Arbitration May Stem Nanaimo Nurses' Strike

NANAIMO, Feb. 6 (CP).—A nurses' strike was threatened in Nanaimo General Hospital tonight because of a wage dispute.

The 21-member nursing staff of the hospital has resigned, announcing they plan to walk off duty next Wednesday unless wage demands are met.

It is understood that a conciliation officer already has met representatives of the hospital and the bargaining agent for the nurses, and recommended that the matter be referred to a board of conciliation as required by the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act of 1947.

This board has been appointed and it is anticipated will endeavor to find a basis of settlement immediately.

Earlier, no reply to the nurses' demands had been made by the hospital board, which has called a meeting for Sunday to discuss emergency plans with doctors for care of hospital patients.

"The sick will be taken care of with such assistance as can be obtained," said a board spokesman.

The nurses demand a salary of $150 a month, effective from February 4, with annual increases of $5 a month each year until a basic salary of $160 is reached. The board offered a $10-a-month increase from the present basic wage of $125.

Resignation of the nurses would be effective February 11.

An investigation is planned by the Provincial Department of Labor and an immediate report will be sought on the dispute.

Hospital Coal Delivery Sure

Victoria's large hospitals yesterday afternoon were assured of coal deliveries from Vancouver Island mines through arrangements made by the United Mine Workers' Union, which has been involved in a dispute with operators for some time.

With only enough coal on hand to last several weeks, city hospital authorities were becoming increasingly concerned.

Prior to yesterday's announcement from the miners' union, the possibility of importing the fuel from Alberta or Seattle was being given serious consideration.

Had imports from Seattle been the only avenue of supply, the coal would have cost an additional $4 per ton. Royal Jubilee Hospital, it is reported, uses on the average of 450 tons each Winter month. Coal from the United States would also have to be paid for in United States funds.

City to See More Snow With No Break in Cold

Intermittent snow is forecast for Victoria this morning and the weatherman says the outlook for a break in the cold spell is not promising.

Snow was general over the northern half of British Columbia last night and it was forecast to reach the southern half of the province some time this morning, although the weatherman points out a lot can happen overnight.

The cold spell is expected to last this week-end. High forecast for today is 36.

Despite colder temperatures, skaters are still on thin ice. Ponds in the Victoria district were reported dangerous with only thin skins of ice on the edges. Provincial Police advised extreme caution for anyone looking for skating surfaces on the Malahat.

The mild spell scheduled with the snowy weather is not expected to last long, and reports warn that residents of Southern British Columbia can prepare to stoke furnaces again. Snowfall is expected to reach the Vancouver area today and last for five hours. Temperatures in the Mainland city are lower than Victoria, hitting a low of 17.7 above Thursday night. Coldest spot was Prince George at 21 below zero.

New Fighters Learning Lessons of War

COMBINED operations, which played decisive part in all the final victorious campaigns of recent war, are being taught to present members of all branches of services at Combined Operations school at Fremington, North Devon, England. Navy, army, marine and air force men are all under instruction in all ramifications of amphibious assault. Here identification boards are worn by officers in "H.Q. Ship" at Fremlingham as they study map of "operational area." Boards give men undergoing course clear idea of responsibilities of each part of unified command.

Says Province Could Buy Land For Veterans' Housing Scheme

Suggestion that the Provincial Government buy land in unorganized territory along Hemcken Road and allow institution of a building scheme for veterans was made yesterday by Carl Fallas, chairman of the zone council of the Canadian Legion.

Mr. Fallas suggested the Government buy land and allow Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation to erect houses. He said light and water services are available in the district.

The zone chairman pointed out that Victoria should be considered a special case in that the area has become overcrowded since the war and prairie families are flocking to the coast region.

"I doubt if any area in Canada has expanded to such an extent," stated Mr. Fallas.

He contended that whether or not people blind themselves to the acute housing shortage, some building scheme has to be instituted, especially for the city's veterans.

Meat and Milk To Top Probe

OTTAWA, Feb. 6 (CP).—Several industries have been singled out for early attention by the Prices Investigating Committee to be set up by the Government, it was learned today.

Government sources said that topping the list of those to be quizzed in relation to the rising cost of living were the baking, meat and milk industries and those concerned with the handling of vegetables.

It was reported Health Minister Martin, prospective chairman of the committee, had not settled finally on which factor would be probed first but that it would be one of these four. The baking industry was considered a good bet for the opener, in view of some recent eyebrow-lifting caused over simultaneous price increases over a wide territory.

The committee will start work, it was stated, as soon as the legislation for it gets past the Commons. Prime Minister Mackenzie King's motion for formation of the committee is due to be debated again Monday.

Mother, Child Die in Blaze

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta., Feb. 6 (CP).—A mother and her baby were burned to death today in a fire that destroyed their farm home near Caroline, Alta., about 20 miles south of here. The mother was identified as Mrs. W. Benz.

An undetermined number of other persons were reported to be in hospital suffering from burns as a result of the fire.

Full details of the fire were not known because of disrupted telephone communications in the district.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Dr. V. Laing left here tonight to visit the scene of the fire. The burned house is several miles out of Caroline and many roads in the district are blocked by drifted snow.

Rocky Mountain House is about 120 miles southwest of Edmonton.

Proclamation on Bizonia Widens East-West Split

BERLIN, Feb. 6 (AP).—British and American Military Governments proclaimed today the establishment of a more powerful German economic administration in their combined zones.

As a result the East-West split over Germany's future yawned wider. The Russian-controlled press declared the "partition" of Germany now was official.

The proclamation becomes effective Monday and within 15 days the Economic Council of the two zones at Frankfurt will be increased from 52 to 104 members by elections to be held by the eight state legislatures. A state council, or upper house, consisting of two representatives from each state, will take office at the same time.

An executive committee, or cabinet, composed of five members and a chairman who will be a virtual premier, will head bizonal departments for economics, finance, transportation, communications and food and agriculture.

A high court of 10 members appointed by the American and British military governors will sit in Cologne to enforce the decision of the enlarged "economic parliament." A solicitor-general and deputies also will be appointed by the military government to conduct prosecutions.

But the new administration will have no political or police powers, its chief power rests on its authority to allocate food supplies.

British and American spokesmen said the proclamation in no way was a "constitution" for Western Germany, since it was initiated by the occupying powers and not by the German people.

Russian propagandists declared, however, that Bizonia now was a "Western German state." They continued to press their claim that German leaders participated in the administration would be guilty of lending themselves to the division of Germany.

Call on Labor To Make Stand

LONDON, Feb. 6 (Reuters)—The British Communist party, several of whose leading members hold responsible positions in Britain's major trade unions, today called on organized labor to reject the Government white paper on wage stabilization.

The party demanded instead: Wage advances to meet rising costs; Government action to peg prices; restriction of profits; increased taxation of the rich and a capital tax, and the extension of control over the distribution of essential commodities.

In a white paper issued Wednesday, the Government laid down the policy that there should be no further general increase in the level of personal incomes without corresponding gains in production.

G.B.S. Picks Oscar Wilde As Raconteur

LONDON, Feb. 6 (Reuters).—George Bernard Shaw, in a letter to The News Chronicle today, says he does not want to talk to anyone "alive or dead."

The News Chronicle publishes a selection of letters from noted men and women who gave their views on which person in British history they would like to meet.

Danny Kaye, the American comedian, and Anthony Eden, former Foreign Secretary, were among those who gave their views.

The comments:

Shaw: "I do not want to talk to anybody, alive or dead; but if I craved for entertaining conversation by a first-class raconteur I should choose Oscar Wilde."

Eden: "There are so many interesting people. But I think I would choose Bacon. And I would talk to him about gardens."

Kaye: "I would love most to meet Winston Churchill. To me, like to all Americans, Winston Churchill represents the spirit of Britain in time of crisis."

Triplets Born Second Time To Same Family

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—A 40-year-old mother of triplets gave birth to her second set today, making medical history in eight minutes flat.

Mrs. Margaret Walker felt a bit "groggy" but otherwise okay, hospital attaches said, and the triplets appeared healthy. They had been expected.

The American Medical Association said it had no previous record of two live sets born to the same parents.

To the father, Michael Walker, a repairman, news of the 17-pound, two-ounce trio was a signal to buy cigars.

The Walkers now have nine children. The oldest is 16. Where they all will sleep in their four-bedroom home is a question.

First to arrive today was a six-pound boy, at 12:06 p.m. A five-pound, 4½-ounce girl followed. The third, another girl, weighed in at five pounds, 13½-ounces, eight minutes after her brother.

Record Trade Deficit in 1947 Resulted From Dollar Economy

OTTAWA, Feb. 6 (CP).—The Government's dollar-saving trade restrictions produced a $33,000,000 drop in United States imports into Canada during December as the country ended 1947 with a historic trading deficit of $918,700,000 with its southern neighbor, it was shown in official statistics released today.

Trade Minister Howe reported that the December totals also showed a $5,000,000 drop from December, 1946. This, coupled with a $13,000,000 increase in exports, left the December adverse trading balance with the United States at $34,000,000 against $80,000,000 in November and $60,000,000 in December, 1946.

But even with the reduced monthly total of $34,000,000 the adverse balance, which indicates the amount by which Canada is short of United States dollars in purchases from that country, shot up to the all-time peak of $918,700,000 for the whole of 1947, compared with $496,700,000 for 1946.

Imports from all countries during December totalled $194,200,000, down $35,000,000 from November.

Commenting on the totals, Mr. Howe said that while the December figures showed the trade restrictions, imposed November 17, were taking effect it would be "unwise" to assume that imports could be maintained at that level throughout 1948.

"A certain amount of abnormal stockpiling of imports undoubtedly took place in October and November, which would account in part for a natural slowing down in the general movement of imports subsequent to the imposition of restrictions.

"It should also be noted that December imports normally tend to be lower than those of the preceding two months, and this seasonal factor may have contributed to the decline."

Total Canadian imports for 1947 reached an all-time peak of $2,574,000,000, 33 per cent above the 1946 total. Imports from the United States were $1,975,000,000, 40 per cent jump over 1946 and represented an even larger proportion of total imports than in the preceding year.

The 1947 distribution of trade between countries was approximately as follows: the United States, 77 per cent; the United Kingdom, seven per cent; other Commonwealth countries, seven per cent, and all other countries, nine per cent.

Pearkes Urges Pensions For Imperials

OTTAWA, Feb. 6 (CP).—Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (P.C., Nanaimo), tonight in the Commons suggested that Imperial veterans of the Great War in Canada should be granted pensions.

"Those men came here and raised families and many of their sons and daughters had served in the World War," said the general, who won the Victoria Cross in the Great War and served as a divisional commander in the World War.

"Those men have taken out citizenship papers. They are Canadians now, and what does it matter whether they wore the Maple Leaf or not in the war. They are the men who made the Canadian stand at Ypres possible.

"They are the men who took the brunt of the first enemy gas attacks and some of the fiercest of the enemies' onslaughts."

Privileges of veterans' hospitals should be extended to more veterans than was the case today, he continued. Old veterans should be allowed to go into veterans' hospitals to spend their last days. This should apply even to cases of veterans with sufficient money to pay, so that their last days could be spent among old comrades.

Gen. Pearkes concluded with a plea that the Government accept a recommendation that a 20 per cent reduction be made in the prices of houses on the veterans' Braefoot project outside of Victoria.

Attlee Upholds British Power

LONDON, Feb. 6 (CP). — Prime Minister Attlee said tonight in a radio address that no one who really knew Great Britain would have any fear that she is no longer a great power.

He summed up Britain's position in an interview recorded earlier by Andrew Cowan of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and broadcast tonight over a C.B.C. network as the first item in a weekly series, "These English."

Except for coal and textiles, production by all British industries surpasses that of prewar days, but severe difficulties still lie ahead, he said.

He cited as examples of improved social legislation the National Insurance Act, family allowances and the National Health Act which established free medical service for everyone.

Britain still was poor "for you can't throw all your resources into two great wars in one generation . . . without coming out economically poorer in the end." But economic power was not everything and Britain's spiritual and moral power was "as great today as it has ever been."

CAPETOWN, Feb. 6 (Reuters).—The United Kingdom $80,000,000 ($320,000,000) Gold Loan Bill passed through all stages without amendment in the South African Senate today. The draft loan provided for the supply to Britain of 9,275,000 ounces of actual gold, to be available as soon as Parliament ratified the Loan Bill. With the loan Britain will purchase substantial quantities of South African produce, mainly fruit, during the next three years.

"NO CONTRACT — NO WORK"

Spokesmen for the Vancouver Island Locals of the United Mine Workers of America are repeating the familiar cry of U.S. miners in reference to the present strike in B.C. coal mines.

In representing the situation to the public in this manner they imply that it is the responsibility of the operators that there is no contract, and that the men are on strike.

These are coal strike facts:

0 Termination date of the last contract was March 31, 1948.

The contract had seven months to run when the Union notified the Company they wished to terminate it.

Whether such action had the full support of the miners, properly expressed in a democratic way, we do not know, but the eventual result was the present strike.

2 The contract formally ended on December 3, 1947—the time specified by the UMWA in their notification of termination.

HOWEVER—despite this—the miners continued to work from that date until January 13, 1948—six weeks.

How can the UMWA spokesmen reconcile this fact with their present claim of "No contract—no work"?

This Company did not terminate the contract with the UMWA; instead it has always been willing to negotiate, as past evidence proves. Only through peaceful means can we achieve a mutually satisfactory contract—a contract imposing no uneconomic conditions upon the Company—no hardship upon the employees—and no penalty upon the public.

New Office Building Planned At View, Blanshard Streets

Purchase of a lot at the southeast corner of View and Blanshard Streets was announced yesterday by Charles G. Heisterman, who said an office building will be constructed on the site at an estimated cost of $25,000 to $30,000.

The building will house the offices of Brown Brothers Ltd., Leach & Sparks, Dr. J. M. Sturdy and Heisterman & Company. It will be a one-story fireproof structure designed by Birley, Wade & Stockdill, architests.

Construction will start immediately following the demolition of the present building on the corner, Mr. Heisterman said. The group of companies and Dr. Sturdy had joined together in the undertaking, he said.

The building now on the site was formerly occupied by Fred Smith & Co., auctioneers.

RECOVER TYPEWRITER

Recovery of the typewriter stolen last week-end from the offices of the B.C. Agricultural Association at the Willows Fairgrounds was reported yesterday by Oak Bay Police.

Police Chief Hugh F. Reston said the machine was found by a workman engaged in removing street car tracks on Fair Street, near the Exhibition Grounds. The typewriter, a large one with an 18-inch carriage, was in plain sight, the chief said, and apparently was placed there during the night.

PRUNING DEMONSTRATED

E. W. White, district horticulturist, showed the correct methods for pruning at a demonstration held at the home of W. Wainwright, 1847 McRae Avenue, Wednesday.

A further demonstration will be given on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at the home of E. Coffey, 3219 Wascana Street.

DEMONSTRATES EQUIPMENT

An address on fighter control system used by the Royal Air Force in the Battle of Britain, and a demonstration of its equipment was presented by Brock Whitney at this week's meeting of the Greater Victoria Air Cadet Squadron No. 89 at Macaulay Point headquarters.

Mr. Whitney, a member of the civilian air cadet committee for this district, has taken a keen interest in affairs of the organization. Recently he donated a large silver cup to the local squadron.

APARTMENT ENTERED

Douglas LaMarchand, 2154 Belmont Avenue, reported to city police yesterday that a basement apartment in his house had been entered by breaking the Yale lock off the door. Nothing was missing, he said.

ORDERS INQUEST

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, has ordered an inquest into the death of Patrick Hannah, 2514 Rock Bay Avenue, whose body was found at the bottom of a 10-foot bank near the Johnson Street Bridge Thursday morning. No date has yet been set.

MEETING POSTPONED

The lecture, "Comets: Vagabonds in the Sky," which was to have been given by P. H. Hughes before the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, has been postponed until Thursday, February 19, at 8 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

WIDELY SOUGHT

The special 4-cent stamp issued as a tribute to H.R.H. Princess Elizabeth in connection with her marriage to H.R.H. the Duke of Edinburgh, to be issued Monday, February 16, is being eagerly sought by collectors the world over, the Post Office here reports.

The new stamp will be bright blue in color, not reddish brown as was at first suggested, and will be the same size as the regular red four-cent stamp.

Poll Stations Are Announced

Twenty polling stations for Saanich provincial by-election on February 23 were announced yesterday by Robert Brydon, returning officer, as follows:

1978 Neil Street; St. Aidan's Hall, Cedar Hill Crossroad; Lake Hill Community Hall, Quadra Street; St. Mark's Hall, Boleskine Road; Gordon Head Hall, Tyndall Avenue; Ralph Street; Marigold Hall, Marigold Road; Strawberry Vale Hall, Burnside Road near High Street; Roy Road Hall, Colquitz, Wilkinson Road at Roy Road; McMorran's Pavilion, Cordova Bay; Hamsterley Lakeside Tea Rooms, East Saanich Road.

Women's Institute Hall, Royal Oak; Women's Institute Hall, West Saanich Road, Brentwood; Temperance Hall, East Saanich Road, Keating; Agricultural Hall, Saanichton; St. Martin's Hall, Obed Avenue; Hampton Hall, Hampton Road at Tillicum; St. Augustine's Hall, Deep Cove; Knights of Pythias Hall, 4th Avenue, Sidney; Hill Top Tea Rooms, East Saanich Road.

Traffic Toll For 1947 196 in B.C.

Officials of the motor vehicle office here, completing a preliminary survey of British Columbia's 1947 highway death toll, disclosed yesterday that 196 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents throughout the province.

Figures are subject to revision when late reports are received from some districts. These, however, may increase rather than lower the alarming total.

Preliminary total represents an increase of 49 over the number of traffic fatalities in 1946, previous record year.

Month-by-month returns last year up to November also indicated that 1947 would emerge as an all-time bad year in total number of highway accidents and persons injured, and in extent of property damage.

Fire Hazards Are Described

Fire Chief Robert Brindle of the city department, and Fire Chief Edward Clayards of Oak Bay, yesterday issued warnings to residents in their areas to take care in the stoking of furnaces, fireplaces and other heating equipment during the present cold spell.

Wednesday's high winds and low temperatures combined to cause numerous chimney fires and at least one roof fire in the Greater Victoria area, the fire department officials reported.

It was pointed out that the wind acts as an auxiliary draft and may cause a normal fire to blaze out of control unless care is taken. Citizens were advised to check furnace pipes and chimneys for any defects.

City C.N.R. Passenger Agent Charles F. Earle to Retire

District passenger agent for the Canadian National Railways in Victoria since 1920, Charles F. Earle will retire February 16 after a railroading career of nearly 46 years, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Earle has been engaged in passenger traffic business in the city since 1910, and is one of the senior members of the local transportation fraternity.

During his years of service to the railway, Mr. Earle, a constant booster for Victoria, Vancouver Island and British Columbia, has contributed much to the tourist trade here. He is a member of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, the Union Club, and the Royal Colwood Golf Club.

Born in Belleville, Ont., he started his railway career as office boy in 1902 in the Grand Trunk Railway, predecessor of the C.N.R., at a salary of $10 a month. In 1903 he was transferred to the head office, and after several other jobs came west in 1909 as secretary to W. P. Hinton, general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific in Winnipeg. The following year he came to Victoria when the railway opened its first office here, as stenographer and assistant city passenger and ticket agent.

Mr. Earle says that when he arrived in Victoria it still retained some of the glamour of a miniature Barbary Coast, and a nickel was the smallest coin in use. He recalls that those were the colorful days of the last of the old sealing, whaling and sailing ships in local waters.

"With the Canadian National's new SS. Prince George being groomed in a Victoria shipyard for the company's Pacific Coast service this Summer, I am sure our present staff couldn't be more proud of her than we were in 1910 when the original Prince George arrived on the coast," said Mr. Earle.

CHARLES F. EARLE

"She was a hospital ship during the early days of the Great War, and I vividly remember the excitement ashore when he heard that the German raider Emden was in the same locality off the northern American coast, and the Prince George had to make fast work in getting away from the area."

Argues Court Into Shorter Term in Jail

Although his appeal from conviction on a theft charge was dismissed by the Court of Appeal yesterday, Patrick R. Hodgins successfully argued his case against his sentence of one year at hard labor.

The court ordered the sentence reduced to six months in jail and decreed that it should commence from the date of conviction, November 13, 1947.

In seeking the quashing of his conviction for theft of a quantity of silverware, jewelry and tools from Richard N. Papineau, of Vancouver, Hodgins told the court he had taken the articles but claimed he had pawned them, along with some of his own clothing, to purchase food and other necessities for the Papineau family. He said every cent of the money was turned over to a woman who lived in the same house.

Appeal of Bud Baker, of Prince George, against conviction on a charge of robbery with violence was dismissed by the court. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by County Court Judge Fulton at Prince George.

The Court of Appeal was adjourned yesterday until February 17.

GRIMSBY, England (CP). — The East Anglian herring fisheries had one of their worst seasons on record in 1947, largely because of huge concentrations of minute organisms which delayed the herrings' arrival on the fishing grounds.

Cameron Hits L.P.P. Ads For Support

Labor-Progressive Party advertisements supporting the C.C.F. in the Saanich by-election "bear all the earmarks of a conspiracy to unseat me in the event of my election," Colin Cameron, C.C.F. candidate, said last night.

Mr. Cameron claimed in a statement that the advertisements are "wholly unauthorized and entirely unwelcome." He said he has asked the newspapers not to accept ads which feature his name, except from the official C.C.F. campaign committee, and has arranged with station CJVI for no unauthorized person to be announced as speaking in his behalf.

The C.C.F. candidate stated he has written Robert Brydon, returning officer, that advertisements published by the L.L.P. displaying his name and appealing for funds are published "entirely without my knowledge or consent."

"This course has been forced upon me in order to protect myself and my supporters from the possibility of an action to void the election due to unauthorized expenditures on my behalf by others than my official agent, Dr. J. Morris Thomas."

Church Surpasses Building Fund Goal

A meeting of the Douglas Street Baptist Church was held recently for the purpose of raising $1,000, needed for urgent repairs and improvements to the church.

As the gifts were received, E. H. Crimp marked up two blackboard thermometers to a total of $1,118, which has since been increased to $1,160.

City Police Court

Pleading guilty to a charge of dangerous driving, J. A. Spiller, 3030 Carroll Street, was fined $35 or in default 6 days in jail on Thursday. His driver's licence was suspended for one month. The charge resulted from an accident at Blanshard Street and Pandora Avenue on February 2. A similar charge against Mrs. Mary Danes, 1176 Yates Street, was dismissed.

YOUNG CONSERVATIVES

Young Progressive Conservative Association's paper "Youth Speaks" will be in circulation by March 1, it was reported at a recent meeting.

Miss Diane Bond and Victor Wilson will speak at a forthcoming meeting in the Saanich by-election. Next meeting of the association will be held at Macdonald Hall, 738 Fort Street, February 19, at 8:30 p.m.

More Electrical Power Said Needed in Saanich

Need of a great expansion in electrical power facilities in Saanich was stressed by Arthur J. R. Ash, Coalition candidate in the Saanich by-election, at a meeting last night at the Temperance Hall, Keating.

Mr. Ash said the expansion is needed, not only for suburban areas, but for agricultural purposes, thus further developing Saanich as an agricultural centre.

He said the large power project at Campbell River has already prompted the establishment of new industries on Vancouver Island.

G. A. A. Hebden, past president of the Victoria Laurier Club, said the Coalition Government has given an outstanding and commendable contribution to public service in its education program.

The Government now, he said, bears 55 per cent of school costs, whereas before it only bore 32 per cent. Expenses were cut considerably through implementation of sections of the Cameron Report, when the number of school districts was reduced from 650 to 76.

"The educational system under the Coalition Government compares with the best on the North American Continent," stated Mr. Hebden.

Eric Makovski said that "we talk about rivals of a system of living which gives us profits as a reward for work and at the same time we flirt with a system that claims it can produce material benefits exceeding those of the present system."

City Resident Buried Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Garden, 87-year-old Victoria resident who died Monday night in Royal Jubilee Hospital, were held at 3 p.m. yesterday from McCall Bros.' Floral Funeral Chapel.

Rev. W. R. Ashford officiated, assisted by Dr. John H. Garden, principal of Mount Royal College at Calgary and son of Mrs. Garden. Interment was in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

A prominent church worker here for many years, Mrs. Garden lived at 1330 Stanley Avenue. She came here from Calgary 30 years ago.

Many attended the services and the chapel was filled with floral tributes from city and Calgary church organizations. Pallbearers were J. Alton, J. F. Bruce, J. F. Byce, D. Pye, W. B. Grant and Neil Pollock.

Displaced Persons

Miss Dorothy Thompson's suggestion that international passports, valid anywhere in the Western world subject only to immigration quotas, be issued to all of the men and women in the displaced persons camps in Europe will at least highlight the tragic plight of those who remain without a home or a land to call their own. The proposal is simple and seemingly practical, so simple in fact that Miss Thompson despairs of it being followed.

It is a tragic fact that after nearly three years since the end of world hostilities there are upwards of one million homeless people in camps in Western Europe, without hope, without help and at present without a known future. The limited parceling out of these world-orphans has not worked out satisfactorily. Their return to their birthplaces is politically, as well as practically, impossible. They must make a new start somewhere.

Miss Thompson's belief that this start is denied by lack of a passport may not altogether cover the facts, but her suggestion that the Western world shake itself out of its daydreams and do something about it is both timely and valuable. If an international passport woud solve the whole problem there could be little real objection to that. Some financial assistance, as Miss Thompson says, would also be required.

One is entitled to assume that after these years all of the displaced persons are by now fully checked and known. The mere fact that they are unwilling to go back to their native lands, and stand ready to forfeit almost everything they own in the world for the chance of a new start elsewhere should in most instances be a prime recommendation in itself. Put face to face with it, what Western nation would refuse admission to such settlers, after this grim hiatus in life? This is one suggestion which should be followed up.

Irish Elections

While proportional representation has rendered the counting of the ballots in Ireland tediously slow and politically uncertain, it would appear that Mr. Eamon de Valera may be returned at the head of a reduced Fianna Fail following in the new Parliament, with the Fine Gael Party as the leading opposition. De Valera's aides are saying that he expects the assistance of Laborites elected to the House to give his party a working, if weakened, majority. This, of course, has yet to be demonstrated.

Increasing gains by Labor, and by the new Clann Na Poblachta Party which had taken two earlier by-elections in important urban ridings, had been anticipated by those who were in touch with the Irish political scene. The Clann Na Poblachta may also play for Labor support, but it will not have the favors of governance to offer, and de Valera will. The Fine Gael Party is what is left of the Cosgrove supporters under a new leader, and with a change of name.

It is difficult to place the political adherence of some of the Irish parties, because they have little counterpart elsewhere in the world. De Valera's Fianna Fail Party is more akin to the liberal viewpoint than are most of the others. What would seem reasonably clear at the moment is that the battle of the ballots will be followed by a tussle for alliances which alone can give any party a working majority in the new House. In that Eamon de Valera has the shortest distance to travel, and will probably remain in power when the smoke has cleared.

Evades Trial

The news that General Blaskowitz committed suicide in Nuernberg prison this week, rather than face trial before a United States military court in Germany, will have special interest for Canadians. It was this Prussian officer who commanded the German army opposed to the Canadian and other British forces in Northwest Germany immediately before the end of the war, and who surrendered to the Canadian corps commander, Lieut.-General Charles Foulkes.

In Ottawa, General Foulkes, now chief of staff, made the comment: "I wouldn't have expected anything else from him," and disclosed that Blaskowitz feared at the time of his surrender that the Canadians would turn him over to the Russians, whom the German commander described as "barbarians." Tribute to his ability as a field commander was paid General Blaskowitz by Canadian correspondents in the closing months of the war. They reported that he had handled his troops skilfully in what was obviously a losing fight.

Mr. Ross Munro, in his book "Gauntlet to Overlord," has this to say of the capitulation ceremony in a shell-smashed hotel at Wageningen, Holland: "I watched tired old Blaskowitz sitting across a dusty table from General Foulkes and, blinking like an owl, agree to every surrender term."

The German commander was one of fourteen former enemy military leaders against whom proceedings began this week on charges of crimes against peace and humanity through their professional rearming for war as members of the German general staff. The German general staff, as a unit, was acquitted by the Internation Military Tribunal in the 1945-46 Nuernberg trials which disposed of the principal Nazi civilian leaders, but the United States elected to summon them for trial as individuals.

Olympic Victory

All Canada will rejoice that youthful Barbara Ann Scott has won the Olympic figure skating title, not alone for her success but also because the deportment of this winsome Ottawa miss all through has been a credit to the country she represents. So eminent has this young girl made herself by reason of her performance on the ice her victory had been widely predicted, but that will not lessen the congratulations that will flow to her from her native land. By winning the Olympic title Miss Scott brings this particular distinction to Canada for the first time.

She has many others to her claim, including the world's and European championships, but the Olympic honor was apparently the most prized of her ambition, representing as it does victory over the cream of the world's women skaters in a historical arena of competition. There will be genuine pleasure that years of intense and applied zeal have culminated in so conspicuous a success.

Another Canadian entry in the Olympic Games, the R.C.A.F. hockey team is also bearing itself with credit. Thrown together almost at the last moment in order that Canada, the home of ice hockey, would not go unrepresented in this sport, the "Flyers" have exceeded expectations. They are at the moment of writing undefeated and tied for tournament leadership. Whether final victory should be theirs or not, they have upheld the honor of their country in fine style, worthy of the uniform they wear.

This country has not yet the sporting resources to match all other countries on equal footing in every event scheduled for the Winter Olympics. It is fitting, however, that in the realm of ice sports Canada should be well to the fore. The nation would have been disappointed were that not so, and felicitations are in order for the young athletes who have carried the Canadian banner to well-earned success.

Retiring Passenger Agent

Impending retirement of Mr. C. F. Earle, district passenger agent here for the Canadian National Railway System, will remove a well-known figure in transportation row; but not, we trust, from the community. Mr. Earle began his career with Canadian railways 46 years ago, and since 1920 has been in charge of the passenger business of the nationally-owned railway in Victoria and on Vancouver Island.

Born at Belleville, Ont., Mr. Earle started his railway career as an office boy in the former Grand Trunk Railway office in his home town in 1902. He transferred to Winnipeg in 1909, and one year later was attached to the Victoria office of the former G.T.P. Railway, under W. E. Duperow. For thirty-eight years Mr. Earle has watched, and aided in, the development of transportation in this community, notably in connection with the growing tourist trade.

He will carry with him the best wishes of the community when he retires on February 16.

Watch Your Health

It is encouraging to have Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson report that as a whole Victorians are a healthy people, a conclusion drawn from his experience as health officer of the City before his recent appointment to the Jubilee Hospital. With hospital accommodation at a premium, citizens will welcome this opinion. Protective measures in schools and special clinics, together with advances in medical science, have made this happy state of affairs possible. There is wisdom in Dr. Anderson's remark, however, that individuals can do much to look after their own health. More physical exercise in pleasant surroundings and close attention to personal well-being, as he suggests, might work wonders for many people. Few people pay enough attention to their own health, leaving it to the doctor to undo what their neglect may have brought into being. Watch your health.

The Blind Boy

O say what is that thing call'd Light,
Which I must ne'er enjoy;
What are the blessings of the sight,
O tell your poor blind boy!

You talk of wondrous things to see,
You say the sun shines bright;
I feel him warm, but how can he
Or make it day or night?

My day or night myself I make
Whene'er I sleep or play;
And could I ever keep awake
With me 'twere always day.

With heavy sighs I often hear
You mourn my hapless woe;
But sure with patience I can bear
A loss I ne'er can know.

Then let not what I cannot have
My cheer of mind destroy;
Whilst thus I sing, I am a king,
Although a poor blind boy.

SILLY BIRD
(Windsor Star)

At five below zero in Windsor Friday, a perky robin was seen chirping in a Windsor garden. Silly bird! If we had wings, we would have flown South, and fast.

PROGRESS—IN TRIPLICATE
(Calgary Albertan)

To get an automobile driver's licence in Shanghai, it is now necessary to [illegible] fill out three forms. The formality of taking a driver's test, however, is omitted.

This should go far to dispel the notion that China is a backward nation. The latest Shanghai gesture offers abundant proof that the Chinese are perfectly at home in the most advanced methods of modern enlightened bureaucracy.

THE OIL PICTURE
(Toronto Telegram)

Canada, which has been so dependent upon United States petroleum, cannot view the oil situation with complacence.

Fortunately there are encouraging signs that the western plains cover many new fields whose discovery may lessen the nation's dependence on foreign supplies. Geologists report that the rock formation east of the Rockies as far north as Norman Wells on the Mackenzie River is favorable for the discovery of oil.

The Leduc field which is now coming into production is a welcome addition to Canadian oil resources and the vigorous exploratory campaign now being conducted by large and small oil companies holds promise of bringing in new fields.

NATIONAL CAPITAL
(Ottawa Journal)

The position of Ottawa as a civic enterprise is unique. That position has many advantages for the residents of Ottawa, but it does restrict, in some respects the normal freedom of action enjoyed by other communities. We are not hampered by lack of courage and imagination, but unquestionably progress is retarded by the necessity of working with two senior Governments, with a host of boards and committees, and with half a dozen self-governing suburban communities which are a part of the Greater Ottawa.

KICKED AROUND
(Halifax Chronicle)

The portfolio of Fisheries is too important to be arbitrarily kicked around. Too many people in Nova Scotia depend upon fishing for a living, and too many problems, old and new, face the industry these days for it to be under anything but the most expert governmental guidance that can be found.

With no reflection upon Mr. MacKinnon, it should have been possible to find an incumbent of the Ministry of Fisheries who knows the industry through and through and one who could be trusted by all concerned in fishing commercially to devise expedients directed to the stabilizing and development of the industry.

There are such men. Why are they overlooked?

ROLAND FOR AN OLIVER
(Montreal Daily Star)

The note upon which the conduct of international affairs is pitched has lately descended at times to a deplorably low point on the scale. The exchanges which used to be carried on in the punctilious manner of the diplomat now often sound more like the repartee of truck drivers involved in a collision. The amenities that serve to maintain workable relations even among states whose friendship is nominal rather than real, are being ignored. If it sounds self-righteous to lay the responsibility on Russia, one need only recommend an examination of the record.

In dealing with Moscow, it appears, it does no good to "turn the other cheek," to be patient under provocation. The only effective course is to give the Moscovites a Roland for their Oliver, to answer propaganda blast with propaganda blast, to return slight for slight.

THERE IS NO JUSTICE
(Winnipeg Free Press)

Mr. Grant Watson, a citizen with a keen eye and a nice sense of judgment in the manipulating of chunks of rock across a sheet of ice, was doing right well for himself and his rink up at Nipawin last week. After an early success on his way to ultimate glory, he sent a wire to his wife in Winnipeg, appraising her of the very satisfactory way the bonspiel was going. From Mrs. Watson came the following devastating reply:

"Who are you to brag? I just cleaned the basement."

This is putting things in their proper perspective. Mr. Watson, for a week's curling (which albeit strenuous is reputed to be fun) gets himself a car and his picture on page one. Mrs. Watson and other unsung heroines stay home and accumulate calluses. There is something wrong with the world besides the international situation.

Who Will Enforce Partition in Palestine?

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Barely three months from now—on May 15—a frightful condition will exist in one of the most critical areas in the world: Palestine. On that day the British will pull out, and thereafter there will be no government in Palestine. That is a definition of anarchy. It has been said that the partition of Palestine is the first great "test" of the United Nations. If so, God help the United Nations.

For absolutely nothing has been done to prepare for the conclusion of the British mandate, which will occur in the midst of bitter communal strife. Two weeks before it ends, the Palestine Commission—a Czech, a Bolivian, a Dane, a Filipino, and a Panamanian—are to move into and take over an area whose disorders have baffled and defeated the British.

* * *

People ask: Who will "enforce" the partition decisions of the commission? The prior question even to that is: Who will govern? Two Palestines are envisaged—a Jewish and and Arab—but, at the same time, the country is to remain an economic unit temporarily under an economic board. Who will constitute this board? It is designedly mixed Jewish and Arabian. But the Arabs have given notice that they will not co-operate or participate.

Then how will common services be administered? Who, for instance, will take over the railroads, civilian aviation, post offices, customs?

Sixty-two per cent of all native Palestine Government staffs are Arab. They have warned that when the British go, they will quit. Has the Palestine Commission any staff to take over?

* * *

Why are the British insisting on pulling out within two weeks after the commission arrives? Unquestionably because, being completely stymied of a solution in their own minds, they want to jump clear before hell breaks loose.

Who is going to police Palestine? It is all very well to say: Send a United Nations force. There isn't any. If any force goes, it will have to be the force of one nation or several. But does any nation have the foggiest notion of what policing a condition of anarchy means? Any force must carry out the instructions of a government. Where will be the government? The five unfortunate fish-out-of-water commissioners?

It is impossible to fill administrative positions wholly with Jews. Those now Arab will have to operate in Arab territory. Would a Jew like to be a postmaster in an Arab village? Or at the ticket office of an Arab depot?

The truth is that the United Nations Assembly, having passed a resolution and appointed a commission, has started something that neither it nor anybody else knows how to finish.

The British have 60,000 to 70,000 troops in Palestine, and a picket police of 3,500 men—almost all of whom speak Hebrew, Arab, or both. Britain is an old imperial power, accustomed to deal with disorderly Colonial situations, and to train men for the purpose. Has anyone else such police?

The native Palestinian police is a mixed force. On May 15 the latter alone will remain. Who, then, will guard Christians and Christian properties in the Holy City, including sacred treasures, which are enormous?

* * *

The electricity of Palestine is supplied by a private company largely Jewish-owned. Its main power station is in the north, at the Syrian and Trans-Jordan frontiers, wide open to attack and sabotage.

In Jewish Palestine itself (with officially 600,000 Jews, and conceivably 800,000, including the "illegals") there are 400,000 Arabs—a mighty fifth column. Some Jewish colonies, such as those in the Huleh area, are islands in an Arab sea. Nothing whatever separates Arab Palestine from Arab Syria, Transjordania, Egypt and Lebanon, which are as close as New Hampshire to Vermont.

* * *

How about the Palestinian Government's hospitals and schools? Jewish hospitals and schools are administered by the Jewish agency. The rest, though officially open to Jews, are not patronized by them and run by the Government. What happens when there is no government? The hospitals, incidentally, are crowded with casualties.

* * *

The theory right along has been that the Arabs would not "dare" to defy the United Nations.

Why not? I should say that it was a long sight easier to defy the United Nations than to defy the British, or, for that matter, the state of Panama. These are sovereign realities, with genuine powers, while the United Nations is a mere phrase. Anyone can defy the United Nations. You or I could stand up in Times Square tomorrow and demand its dissolution and abolition, and be perfectly safe.

* * *

Any nation can wash its hands of terrorist bands and call them the "enraged soul of the people." But if anyone thinks dealing with them can be accomplished by a division of G.I. Joes, he has another think. Armies can fight armies. But when it comes to hunting down innocent-looking kids with nitroglycerine in their school bags and humble-appearing gentry with knives in their sleeves, it's another matter—as the British have found out.

Don't ask me what to do. I don't know. I'm like the British in that. But the people who started this presumably must have known how to finish it.

They have precious little time. As of the moment, I wouldn't write life insurance for one member of the commission, which is being asked to do what nobody apparently knows how to do, and to risk their lives in doing it.

Observation Car

"Look at that marvellous Winter sunset. No painter could place on canvas that combination of red and gold. What does it make you think of?" a customer remarked to Tobacconist Martin. The tobacconist was somewhat annoyed at the interruption in counting his cash, and had his mind set on catching a certain bus in order to arrive home on the dot for supper. "It reminds me of sliced tomatoes or streaky bacon," he observed . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, ambled into a nearby restaurant for a cup of coffee, and was considerably perturbed at the length of time a waitress took to approach his table. "Do you expect me to sit here until I starve?" he complained. "Don't be silly, Bill," the girl replied. "You know we close at 8 p.m." . . . "Why is your face so long today?" a friend asked the Keating Squire. "Got a garage bill today, and I am filled with righteous indignation," the squire replied. "What do you mean by that term?" the friend inquired. "I am mad without cussing," the squire explained . . . From The Insurance Magazine: "Modern cars steer so easily that there is a constant temptation to take one hand off the wheel and drive with the other, perhaps even with but one or two fingers. Mental relaxation accompanies this practice. Any sudden emergency, a blowout, a child dashing between parked cars, or a sudden skid, finds the driver physically unprepared and unable to cope with the situation."

KERENSKY AND AFTER

Sir,—The Socialists in Canada, as well as their counterparts in other lands, represent themselves as the only champions of those they call "the oppressed class." They oppose all other parties, which they claim are "tools of capitalism." Most of their vocal sympathy is lavished though on the weekly wage earner, that vast army which represents the largest majority of the electorate. Their slogan is a repeated appeal to class warfare; their propaganda, often with slight consideration for realities, points to the "land of milk and honey" to be entered as soon as state ownership has been achieved, providing, of course, that control of means of production be vested into the hands of the leaders of the new order and shared with no others.

Recent events, in other countries which had a large Socialist majority, seem to have raised some anxiety in the minds of our new intelligentsia. They have noticed the eclipse of their friends in Poland, Romania and generally in the Near East, the bitter contests being waged in Italy and in France. Interlopers had seemingly invaded the preserves of socialism, stolen their decoys, were in fact luring the crowds and, what was worse, depriving the true leaders of the spoils of victory.

So, today, Socialists in Canada are endeavoring to convince the electorate that they have nothing in common with the Communists, with those bad boys of Moscow. This seems to be a rather rash statement, difficult to substantiate. The two factions indeed hold to the same dogma, both have the same objective, the regimentation of the masses, leading to totalitarian hierarchy. The only difference is one of methods to be applied in order to reach the goal. One favors the cloak of constitutional liberty, the other believes in more direct action. The dish is the same; only the sauce is different.

Socialism leads to communism, because they stem from the same origin, envy breeding hatred. Both encourage licence, which eventually will stifle liberty of the individual, promise equal distribution of wealth, a state of affairs which, experience shows, leads to increased poverty, fostering unrest and confusion.

The Socialist, Kerensky, formed his democratic government in February, 1917, and was forced out of power in October of the same year by Lenin, the Communist. In the chase for power, the so-called moderates cannot stand up to the extremists. Just now this is what happened in Poland, all over the Near East, where at the start the Socialists represented a majority. Socialism, as it is defined today, leads directly to communism; the diestae must run its course. Dogma based on class warfare cannot build a sincere spirit of brotherhood uniting all classes; it leads to state slavery.

According to Culbertson

(Copyright, 1948, by Ely Culbertson)

A hand in the recent Masters Team-of-Four Tournament at Atlantic City proved that even the masters sometimes step on their own feet. Only two declarers out of many times that number chose the right line of play. This was the deal:

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ A Q 1
♥ K 9 6 5
♦ A 10 4
♣ A Q 7

WEST
♠ 10 5 2
♥ J 10 8 3
♦ K J 7
♣ 9 6 3

EAST
♠ 9 7
♥ A Q 7 4 2
♦ Q 9 8 5 2
♣ 3

SOUTH
♠ K J 8 6 3
♦ 6 3
♣ K J 10 8 5 4

In many cases this was the sequence of bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	4 ♣	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	6 ♣	Pass
Pass	Pass

Strangely, few Souths thought their hands worth a one bid of hearts, and therefore few reached a grand slam.

However, since this contest is played on a "board-a-match" basis, which is virtually the same as match-point duplicate, it behooved each declarer to make as many tricks as he could with safety.

The opening lead was always the heart jack. Every South ruffed, and probably with the thought that six-odd was safe and it would be terrible to jeopardize the contract, they promptly drew trumps, ran the clubs, and finally conceded a diamond trick.

This was not particularly logical, considering that an extra trick could be played for with at least 99 per cent impunity. After ruffing the heart, the right line was to cash the spade king and lead to the ace, then, after discovering the 3-2 trump break which would make the succeeding play safe, to ruff another heart, then to go back to dummy with a club and ruff a third heart. Now dummy would be reentered with a diamond, the last trump would be drawn while South discarded his diamond, and the solid clubs would round out 13 tricks.

Second German General In Two Days Kills Self

PARIS, Feb. 6 (AP).—Suicide has been a convenient exit for various German leaders accused of war crimes.

The latest was Gen. Otto von Stuelpnagel, the iron-handed German administrator of occupied France, who hanged himself today in a Paris prison cell to avoid trial on war crimes charges.

Guards of Cherche-Midi prison found Stuelpnagel hanging in his cell before dawn. The 69-year-old general had fashioned a noose from strips of bedding and fastened it to a bar of the window. He was still alive when taken down, but died less than an hour later.

Stuelpnagel's death came a little more than a day after German General Johannes Blaskowitz, also accused of war crimes, killed himself in a jump from a prison catwalk in Nuernberg prison.

It was there than Hermann Goering, second ranking Nazi, swallowed poison shortly before he was to have hanged as a war criminal. Robert Ley, Labor Minister; Karl Westphal, former official of the Ministry of Justice, and Dr. Leonard Conti, head of medical experiments on concentration camp inmates, also ended their lives in Nuernberg prison to avert punishment.

Herbert Backe, German Minister of Food and Agriculture during the last war years, hanged himself at Nuernberg to avoid trial.

Adolf Hitler and Eva Braunn were reported to have killed themselves in the Reichschancellory of Berlin in the last days of the war to escape capture and trial. Heinrich Himmler, head of the Gestapo and Minister of Interior, swallowed poison after British officials captured him. None of the three, however, lived to see themselves indicted.

The Nazi Propaganda Minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, and his wife and children, were found dead of poison when Berlin fell to the Russians.

Foe to Communists to Face So-Called Bulgarian "Trial"

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
A.P. News Analyst

Dimiter Gichev, one of Bulgaria's great patriots, is the latest victim selected for the drum-head court-martials which are called "trials" by Georgi Dimitrov, Kremlin-appointed satrap of this troubled captive state.

Gichev, unlike his compatriot, Nikola Petkov, may escape death. Dimitrov, under world castigation for the legal murder of Petkov, may think to show himself a dispenser of justice with mercy by commuting the death sentence which the court is generally expected to hand down.

Gichev has been a power in the Agrarian Party for many years. He was a right-hand man of Alexander Stambulisky, who bitterly opposed Bulgaria's alliance with Germany in the Great War. Gichev has been a power in the Agrarian movement for the last 25 years.

SAME PATTERN

But Gichev's arraignment is taking the same form as that of Petkov. Several mysterious co-defendants were arrested with him. They can be expected to come forward with confessions whose principal purpose will be to convict Gichev.

These confessions will have been obtained in the usual way, which has been best described by Peter Koev, another Petkov lieutenant who was one of the few men ever to go free after a Communist "interrogation." Koev wrote Dr. Georgi M. [illegible] former Peasant leader now in exile, is the antithesis of Communist Georgi despite the name similarity.

Koev said he was kept in solitary confinement, on the "hunger treatment" for 21 days, then questioned continuously for five days while standing, handcuffed, without food or water. After 12 hours rest, he was trussed and beaten on the soles of the feet intermittently for four nights. Presure from his friends and his membership in the National Assembly finally produced a temporary release.

SECOND ATTEMPT

The Communists, however, were determined to make him sign a statement against Petkov. They ordered him rearrested.

Before leaving the Assembly for the last time he defied the Communists to their faces:

"If it should happen later that, after a period of 'instruction,' I should make some 'confessions,' they will have been extorted from me by means of violence."

But Georgi Dimitrov, to carry out the great Communist plan for "liberation of peoples," must eliminate his opposition, must have his one-party state. Order must be maintained behind the newly-established Soviet front, so as not to interfere with the work of advance units in France, Italy and the Middle East who likewise seek to extend the Kremlin's form of "democracy."

CHURCH PUBLICITY

LONDON, Feb. 6 (CP).—The Church of England Assembly voted to hire a p[illegible] agent. Dr. J. C. Wand, Bishop of London, had urged adoption of modern methods. He said: "You cannot fight modern wars with bows and arrows."

ICKENHAM, Middlesex, England (CP).—Fifty birds' nests were found in a village pump when it was cleaned for the first time since 1897.

Jasper Park Lodge To Open June 11

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6.—"It is officially announced that Jasper Park Lodge will open on June 11," declared Robert Sommerville, general manager of Canadian National Railways Hotels, who is a visitor in Winnipeg today. "We are opening a few days earlier this Summer in order to accommodate the annual convention of the Canadian Feed Manufacturers Association in advance of the [illegible] Minaki Lodge will open on June 12 with a Great West Life Assurance convention," he continued.

No Difference Seen in Test

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP).—A two-year study of 217 children—one group of which had butter in its diet and the other margarine—showed no difference in the effects of the fats on growth and health, three physicians reported today.

The study was made by Drs. Harry Leichenger, George Eisenberg and Anton J. Carlson of the department of pediatrics, University of Illinois College of Medicine, Chicago. "Blood studies showed that there was no significant difference between the margarine or butter groups," the investigators reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Atomic Power For Everyone In 30 Years

TORONTO, Feb. 6 (CP).—Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago told a press conference today he believed atomic power would be generally available in less than 30 years. Within a few years a pilot model generator probably would be put into operation in Northern Canada to produce power from uranium.

When atomic power became cheap and plentiful, increased productivity would bring about abundant leisure. That would give rise to a need for an improved system of education, with emphasis on philosophy.

Eventually the world might return to the social system of the ancient Greeks, who had a slave society. The Greek rulers left the work to their slaves and spent their own time in improving themselves and their communities.

"Science will replace the human slaves with machines in the new civilization. Then let the rulers—all mankind—improve themselves."

Chancellor Hutchins is here as a guest of the Toronto Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

U.S. Commodities Holding Own Despite Continued Grain Drop

By The Canadian Press

Grains apparently have had their high-price fling and are headed for more sober times, but other commodities are showing resistance to current market drops.

For the third successive day wheat yesterday dropped 10 cents a bushel in Chicago, making a three-day total loss of 30 cents, while corn has dropped its limit of 24 cents in the same period. Oats did better yesterday, closing 5¼ cents lower to 2¼ cents higher.

The current decline is the steepest since before the war. On January 16 wheat reached a seasonal high, the May future selling at $3.06½, while corn and oats reached all-time highs for the 100 years they have been traded in Chicago, $2.70¾ for May corn and $1.29 for May oats.

Today May wheat closed at $2.56⅝, down 50⅛ cents since January 16; May corn at $2.23¾, down 47⅛ cents; and May oats at $1.01⅝, down 27⅛ cents.

All-in-all the grain market is getting a shaking down to realistic values, whatever they may be, and Chicago feels that the days of $3 wheat are over.

In Winnipeg rye dropped its limit of 10 cents, while oats and barley were erratic and mostly lower. Winnipeg has no trading in wheat futures, most of the Canadian crop going to Britain on long-term contracts well below the world price.

While grains seem to have been over-valued, other United States commodity markets, which joined the initial break, are holding up better, apparently backed by the circumstances of heavy world demand.

British Physicians Take Vote On National Health Proposals

LONDON, Feb. 6 (AP).—The next six months in Britain may be known to history as the time of the "doctors' rebellion."

The issue is whether to take the country's new national health service plan as it stands, or "strike" for concessions to the doctors' pocketbooks.

A strike vote now is being taken among Britain's 20,500 general practitioners. If two-thirds of the working doctors say they are willing to withhold service from the country-wide health system, the British Medical Association believes it can force Health Minister Aneurin Bevan to meet its terms.

Bevan, a determined Welshman, insists the new health service, overwhelmingly approved by Parliament, begin as scheduled July 5. The law is the realization of a long-time Socialist goal, equal and ample medical treatment for everyone, with no limitations imposed by a thin pocketbook.

B.M.A. leaders want to abolish the law's guarantee of a basic salary of £300 ($1,200) a year to every practitioner who joins the health system, and substitute payment only by a fee for each separate patient.

Bevan's view is that the basic salary makes doctors in the new health service independent by freeing the younger ones from frets about rent and other fixed expenses.

The B.M.A. also is adamant against abolition of a doctor's privilege of selling his practice, usually for around $20,000, when he retires.

...Oddities...

NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 6 (AP).—New Jersey husbands aren't supposed to be perfect, Chancery Master Robert Grosman has ruled.

Rejecting an application for separate maintenance, Grosman said yesterday that Mrs. Lillian Yeager was not legally justified in leaving her husband because of his drinking.

"The fact that a man indulges in alcohol, even excessively, does not constitute a misdemeanor of such nature as to warrant abandonment," Grosman ruled.

"The law does not require or expect perfection on the part of either husband or wife. Under the most ideal circumstances, each party to a marriage must overlook a great many things. Such behavior comes under the 'for worse' part of the marriage contract."

MEADVILLE, Pa., Feb. 6 (AP).—It wasn't just the cold weather that frose up parking meters, police reassured motorists yesterday.

Instead, three 'teen-agers filled the parking meters with water from squirt guns. Their sentence: "Write 500-word essays on 'The Evils of Squirt Guns'."

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 6 (CP).—Unseasonable and unpredictable rains and storms have played havoc with the forecasts of Sydney weather men this year.

One enterprising newspaper reporter went to a nearby reserve for aborigines to see whether the ancient methods of the natives might not prove more efficient. Twenty natives he interviewed admitted that they had lost the art of foretelling rains by studying the trails of ants and the reactions of leaves.

But he told him to try Fisherman Joe, a native living "over the hill."

Fisherman Joe admitted to the reporter he was "plurry good weather man." He said he had made only 20 mistakes during the last 15 years.

The reporter asked him whether he studied the ant trail or the leaves.

Said Joe: "Him much too old-fashioned. Me use'em barometer."

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 6 (AP).—T. H. Loftin started what he thought was a routine plane trip yesterday from Louisville, Ky., to Nashville, 184 miles away.

Because of bad weather the plane passed over Nashville, however, then Atlanta, and finally landed at Jacksonville, Fla., 659 miles later.

Loftin boarded a northbound plane, hopefully bound for Nashville a second time.

But, the weather still was bad so the plane passed over Nashville again and landed at Loftin in Indianapolis, Ind., 125 miles from its starting point.

Last night he phoned his wife he'd be home Friday—by plane.

U.S. Protests Gichev Trial

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP).—The United States State Department denounced today the way Bulgaria is trying Dimiter Gichev, former Agrarian Party leader, for his life.

Press Officer Michael McDermott said events leading up to the trial resemble the case of Agrarian Nikola Petkov, put to death last Fall.

Gichev, as was Petkov, has been accused of plotting against the Bulgarian Government.

Bride Is Lovely In White Taffeta

At the Church of Our Lord, Blanshard Street, on Saturday evening, the marriage of Mary Alison Kerr, youngest daughter of the late Mr. A. Y. Kerr, of Victoria, to Writer Trevor Edward Lee, R.C.N., youngest son of Mrs. A. H. Lee, 430 Luxton Avenue, was solemnized by Chaplain G. L. Gillard, R.C.N.

Cherry blossoms and white chrysanthemums decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was lovely in white taffeta fashioned with off-shoulder neck outlined with flange pleated in the centre front, net yoke and long, pointed sleeves and gathered skirt sweeping into a full train. Her veil of illusion net fell to her fingertips from a headdress of white taffeta trimmed with lily of the valley. A coiled pearl choker was her only jewelry and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and snapdragons with paper-white narcisi and carnations with satin streamers. Mr. Raymond H. Horwell gave his sister-in-law in marriage.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Lance Lucas, matron of honor, and Mrs. R. H. Horwell, her sister, gowned in red and white, and green and white respectively. Their dresses were identical in style with short train, bustle back, and boat-shaped neckline. The headdresses matched their frocks as did their velvet neckbands. They wore long white gloves and carried Colonial bouquets of Spring flowers in red and white, and white and yellow shades.

Little Nicci Lucas and Raye Ann Horwell, wearing long taffeta frocks in blue and pink, respectively, with tiny bustle back and gathered skirts, with ruffled bandeaux trimmed with white flowers and carrying small Colonial bouquets of blue, pink and white blooms, were winsome flower girls.

The best man was C. D. Karaglanis, R.C.N., brother of the groom, and ushers were Mr. Lance Lucas and Writer Peter Lesoway, R.C.N.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's brother and sister-in-law, W.O. Jack Karaglanis, R.C.N., and Mrs. Karaglanis, 1549 Burton Street, where Mr. Aubrey Karaglanis proposed the health of the bride.

Leaving for Seattle for their honeymoon, the bride wore a red and black ensemble with white gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee will make their home at 1349 Grant Street.

Pro Patria W.A. No. 31, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., will meet on Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the ladies' lounge, 625 Courtney Street. Installation of officers.

NANAIMO NURSES PLAN TO QUIT WORK NEXT WEDNESDAY

PHOTOGRAPH shows Nanaimo nursing staff resigned yesterday. General Hospital of 100 beds on Kennedy Street, overlooking business district and harbor of Up-Island city. Twenty-one members of nursing staff resigned yesterday, and indicated they would quit work next Wednesday unless paid $150 per month, with annual increases of $5 per month until maximum of $160 is reached. Present salary is $125 per month. Board of conciliation has been appointed, and hospital directors will also hold emergency meeting Sunday.

Island Women Request Additional School Area

A four-car caravan of women from Cobble Hill and surrounding districts wended its way to the Legislative Buildings yesterday to renew demands for severance of the area from Cowichan School District No. 65, and re-establishment of the former Plantagenet School District.

The delegation of women—more than 20 mothers and taxpayers—spent more than an hour with Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education, and came away with a promise that he would visit the district next week to look into their protests.

Chiefly, they voiced objection to pupils having to travel more than 20 miles a day to attend high school at Duncan, when a small cash outlay would fit the present three-room high school at Cobble Hill to meet requirements of the district for several years.

"The schools within the former Plantagenet School District gave excellent results, but have now been joined to the city of Duncan and the Municipality of North Cowichan without reference to the wishes of parents or taxpayers," a brief presented to the minister by Mrs. B. A. McMillan pointed out.

It emphasized that the distance children would have to travel by bus to Duncan, and length of time spent away from proper supervision, caused great concern to parents, to the point where some had stated that, at risk of financial hardship, they would rather send their children to private schools.

"While Duncan parents strongly object to their children having to travel about four miles in a school bus, it is considered no hardship for other children to travel up to 22 miles," the brief stated.

Attention was also drawn to the fact that if present plans were followed, Duncan would have a large auditorium and gymnasium financed to the extent of 53 per cent by residents of the unorganized districts.

Pioneer Passes

DUNCAN, Feb. 6.—Another link with the past was broken with the death at his home at Somenos Friday morning of Arthur Troughton Leakey. The late Mr. Leakey, who was born in England 79 years ago, came to Cowichan District in 1887. He engaged in farming at Somenos. His brother, Canon Arundel Leakey, was for many years rector of St. Peter's Church, Quamichan.

Mr. Leakey is survived by his widow; one son, Arthur N.; two daughters, Carus and Mona; one brother, Dr. Leakey of Seattle, and one sister, Miss F. E. Leakey of Victoria. Funeral services will be held at St. Peter's Church, Quamichan, on Monday. Rev. Canon T. M. Hughes and Rev. H. T. Archbold will officiate.

SOOKE, Feb. 6.—West Coast Road Improvement Association will meet in Otter Point School at 8 p.m. February 20.

Maple Bay Property Owners Petition Council for Road

tection. Members were advised that street lighting could be obtained under a local improvement plan, and that the matter of fire protection would be investigated.

A delegation from the Cowichan Recreation Centre asking for financial assistance was heard, but no action was taken.

Armour and Saunders' tender of $400 for the purchase of the Lamont gravel pit was accepted.

Reeve D. D. Chapman and the municipal clerk were authorized to negotiate a deal with the Jogander Singh Lumber Company for sale of the municipal grader, when a new grader on order arrives.

Several citizens who are providing lighting for a municipal building used by the Old Age Pensioners' Association were granted $25 toward the cost, which will be $52 in all.

The Duncan Medical Society asked for increased pay for the care of social welfare patients. The matter will be taken up with the deputy minister of health and welfare.

A resident was given $20 compensation for two sheep said to have been killed by Indian dogs. The grant was made under the Sheep Protection By-Law. The claim of a Chinese resident for compensation for a pig killed in the same way was laid on the table, as there is nothing in the by-law covering pigs. Additional claims were paid to residents for chickens killed by dogs.

The Chemainus volunteer fire department submitted a requisition for necessary supplies. The matter will be dealt with when estimates are considered.

Councillors Beasley and Evans were appointed a committee to investigate the booming of logs on a beach at Chemainus.

L. F. Solly wrote asking for the creation of a parks board in the Cowichan electoral district, with one commissioner each from the Government area, the Municipality of North Cowichan and from the city of Duncan. The matter was discussed at length, and will be given further consideration.

Duncan Challenges Road Plan Meeting

DUNCAN, Feb. 6.—Reeve D. D. Chapman of North Cowichan and Mayor J. C. Wragg of Duncan are not satisfied with the decision of the Public Works Department to hold a meeting at Duncan on February 25, to which only the councils of North Cowichan and Duncan, and trustees of Cowichan School District No. 65 have been invited. They will call a public meeting at which all citizens will be invited to express their views. This, in the opinion of the civic heads, is the only democratic way of dealing with the problem of the new Island Highway route to be followed through Duncan.

Bulb Growers May Get Help

Partly to aid in expansion of the bulb-growing industry on Vancouver Island and some of the Gulf Islands, efforts are being made to have a sizable proportion of the 1,400 immigrants coming to Canada from Holland this Spring placed in British Columbia, it was learned at the Legislative Buildings.

Representations along that line will probably be made to Ottawa soon by Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture. The plan is that Dutch immigrants should be placed not only on bulb farms, but also in other branches of agriculture, and officials of the department are making surveys among growers, dairymen and others to ascertain the number who could be employed in the province.

Investigation is being made through Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor Board and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., also has been in communication with Saanich bulb growers asking them to submit requests to Ottawa for placement of the Dutch immigrants.

Plan Zoning Vote

SOOKE, Feb. 6.—A. G. Graham, director of regional planning, will address Sooke Community Association during a meeting in Sooke Community Hall at 8 p.m. next Friday. Property owners will vote on the question of adopting zoning regulations in the district.

Campbell River School Budget Total $155,000

CAMPBELL RIVER, Feb. 6.—A budget of $115,000, of which $85,575 must be raised by property owners, was approved at a meeting of trustees and elected representatives of Campbell River School District No. 72. John Smith presided, and School Inspector H. D. Stafford of Courtenay was also in attendance.

Costs of the proposed new schools at Campbell River and Quadra Island were received from the architect at Vancouver, R. A. D. Berwick. A. C. Lipp, secretary, was advised to forward the figures to the Department of Education for approval so that a by-law can be prepared and presented to the electors at an early date. If the by-law passes, it would enable the new Campbell River School to be partly completed by September, which would omit the necessity of building additional temporary rooms at the present school.

It was agreed that all elected representatives would be welcome to attend any regular meeting of the board held on the first and third Tuesday in the month, to discuss any business pertaining to their respective areas.

The resignation was accepted of Matthew Phillips of Bloedel, who has gone to the United States to live. H. Parker of Campbell Falls was elected a trustee in his place.

J. Neville of Victoria was appointed principal of Quadra Island Superior School.

The resignation of J. Burgess from the advisory board of the Provincial Board of Health was accepted. O. Farwell of Campbell River was elected to fill the vacancy.

Gasoline Fire Causes Death

CUMBERLAND, Feb. 6.—Funeral services were held here today for the late Frederick James Crawford, 25, who died in Cumberland Hospital Monday as the result of burns received in a fire at Bowser on January 31.

Crawford was fatally burned when he mistook a can of gasoline for coal oil while starting a fire in the stove of his Bowser home. Mrs. J. Hawse, who was in the house at the time, also received serious burns, and is at present a patient at Cumberland Hospital.

Rev. Wesley Nixon officiated at services for the late Mr. Crawford in Banks' Funeral Parlor, and interment followed at Cumberland Cemetery.

Board to Seek Hospital Fund

CUMBERLAND, Feb. 6.—T. H. Carey was elected president of the Cumberland General Hospital board at the annual meeting held in the Recreational Institute. H. Waterfield was named vice-president and Charles J. Parnham, secretary-treasurer. Executive members are James Quinn, Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, George Apps, Arthur Beattie, James Edwards, John Watson and J. L. Brown.

In his report for the past year, Mr. Quinn said that additional grants from the Government were necessary if the hospital were to continue to operate. He also said the nursing situation was critical, and that the hospital could use four more graduate nurses.

Mr. Parnham's report showed that receipts for the year totaled $34,930.82, which figure included a $7,714 grant from the Government. Disbursements totaled $35,387.68.

During the meeting, Mr. Apps, who is president of the Cumberland and District Hospitalization Association, announced that his organization would donate the sum of $500 toward purchase of a new X-ray machine.

Par Shattered In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 6 (AP).—Four of the lesser lights of the Winter golf tour—Ky Laffoon, Jim Ferrier, Eric Monti and Norman von Nida—led the greatest par-shattering rampage in the history of the Texas Open today as they laid down blazing 65's in the rain and mud to tie for the first-round lead.

All told 53 players bettered par 71 on the 6,400-yard Brackenridge Park course and 15 others equalled it.

Three shotmakers tied for second at 66. They were Horton Smith of Detroit, Skip Alexander of Mid-Pines, N.C., and Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va.

Eight posted 67's, nine registered 68 and 18 turned in 69.

Favorites Bobby Locke, the Johannesburg star, and Jimmy Demaret were two and three strokes, respectively, back of the leaders.

North Oyster Area Aroused

LADYSMITH, Feb. 6.—The following telegram was sent today to the Minister of Education as the result of a meeting of North Oyster Ratepayers' Association:

"The Ratepayers' Association of North Oyster unanimously rejects estimated school expenditures for District No. 67 in view of the large increase contemplated, until the Government reverses its apparent intention to maintain secrecy concerning the report of tax commission. Ratepayers contend such secrecy deprives those concerned of even an approximate idea of the incidence of taxation necessary, although the Government admitted months ago glaring irregularities and inconsistencies in assessments, and although publication of the report was repeatedly promised by members of commission for mid-January."

LIBERAL MEETING MONDAY

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE A Danny Kaye movie without music would be like a Western picture without a horse, hence the red-headed comic's new Technicolor film, "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," which ends tonight at the Atlas Theatre, abounds with catchy numbers. He offers one that probably no person except Danny Kaye would be able to sing at all. It's "Symphony for Unstrung Tongue," companion piece to Danny's famous "Melody in 4F," the top musical item from his previous performance in the Technicolor "Up in Arms."

CAPITOL THEATRE "Gone With the Wind," which ends tonight at the Capitol Theatre, gives the screen a dignity it never knew before. It is a picture that will be remembered as one of the cherished motion picture experiences of yesterday, today and tomorrow. Those who have seen it before will be enriched anew; those to whom it is a first view will remember it for the remainder of their lives.

RIO THEATRE "Black Beauty," classic best-seller of all time, ends tonight at the Rio Theatre, with Mona Freeman in the role of the young, high-spirited owner of the celebrated steed. Giving screen life to the most famous horse in all of literature is Highland Dale, who was picked from more than 1,000 aspiring equines for the title role of the picture. Co-featured with Miss Freeman in the Alson Production, which is being released through 20th Century-Fox, are Richard Denning, Evelyn Ankers, Charles Evans, J. M. Kerrigan, Moyna Macgill and Terry Kilburn.

ROYAL THEATRE Winner of M-G-M's $200,000 prize novel contest, Elisabeth Goudge's best-seller novel, "Green Dolphin Street," is now showing at the Royal Theatre in Metro's spectacular film version, starring Lana Turner, Van Heflin, Donna Reed and Richard Hart. Miss Turner forsakes her famed blond tresses to become a brunette for her new role in which she is said to achieve even greater dramatic heights than she revealed in her last picture, "The Postman Always Rings Twice."

YORK THEATRE There are many spectacularly beautiful scenes in "God's Country," the magnificently produced James Oliver Curwood thrilling drama of a people's fight for existence in the land of the great redwoods. Robert Lowery, Helen Gilbert, William Farnum and Buster Keaton are seen in the leading roles.

Finance—Commerce—Markets

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP).—Assorted stocks regained some of their equilibrium today, although further weakness of major commodities helped keep many market leaders in the losing bracket. With wheat and corn continuing to tumble the permissible limit, enthusiasm for securities was notably lacking. Mild short covering and other buying propped trends to a certain extent. The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 61.6, which was bottom since June 10. The utility index, though, edged to new low ground for the past year. Of 1,008 issues registering, 389 fell and 379 rose.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, Feb. 6 (CP).—Industrials continued to drift to lower levels as losses ranging from fractions to more than a point more than tripled gains. Volume was lighter on the Toronto Stock Exchange today with golds unchanged and base metals and Western oils weaker. Eldona featured the mining lists on about 125,000 shares. All industrials participated in the retreat with liquors and foods the weakest centres. Newsprints posted a few fractional gains.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Feb. 6 (CP).—Oats and barley futures gave an erratic display today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, reflecting wide fluctuations in Chicago grains. The coarse grains opened sharply lower, then rallied when the Chicago market regained its equilibrium. Shippers and Eastern processors were good buyers at this stage. Later, the Chicago market turned reactionary, and the Canadian market followed with liberal selling in all pits.

Dominion Bonds Firm

MONTREAL, Feb. 6 (CP).—Trading continued light on the bond market today. Dominions displayed a firm undertone throughout the list. Alberta external issues were in good demand in provincials. In rails, C.P.R. 3½'s were slightly easier, while Bell remained unchanged in utilities. Montreal Tramway 5's of '55 moved down fractionally. The balance of the list lacked feature in dull trading.

Vancouver Stocks

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6 (CP).—There was light trading with oils showing downward trends in the afternoon session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange today. In oils, Home fell 5 to 6.05, and Globe was down 1 to .63, while in mines Pend Orelle rose 5 to 2.40. No industrial sales were recorded.

London Market

LONDON, Feb. 6 (CP).—A further slump on Wall Street reacted on the London Stock Exchange today where most sections recorded sharp declines. Selling was not extensive, but dealers were not in a happy frame of mind, particularly in view of possibility of a general wages dispute. Prices to suffer most were in the oil section.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP).—Grains continued to crash on the Board of Trade today despite short-covering and new buying which at times produced quick, large rallies. The collapse of values was most apparent in corn. Prices were off the 8c limit most of the session, marking the third consecutive day of limit breaks in this grain. At times wheat was down its 10c limit. Oats showed some resistance to the waves of selling. The cash corn market was completely disrupted at times.

So, effective immediately we are reducing prices on General Electric ranges! On some models these reductions amount to as much as $20.00.

Now you can enjoy all the speed and convenience of the new General Electric Range at a lower price!

It's a beauty—and so easy to keep clean. So completely automatic too! Gives you handy cooking chart, large warming compartment, complete temperature control, many other features for better, easier and more economical cooking.

Barbara Ann Wins Crown for Canada

Glamour Girl of Winter Olympics Tops List Beats Bad Ice Conditions, 24 Competitors

By JACK SULLIVAN

ST. MORITZ, Feb. 6 (CP)—Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa, glamour girl of the Winter Olympics, beat chippy ice and 24 competitors today to make her dreams come true and bring Canada its first Olympic figure-skating crown.

The dimpled world and European champion made spins, spirals and loops look like child's play as thousands of spectators in the stands and on snow-covered, sun-bathed hills around open-air Olympic stadium shouted hoarsely, "Barbell! Barbell!" pet Swiss name for the 19-year-old Canadian.

Eight of the nine judges rated her first on the points sheets and the other gave her a third for 11 placings. Nine would be the best score possible.

SWEDEN IN LEAD

Miss Scott's victory marked Canada's first championship at the 1948 Winter Olympics and boosted the Dominion's total in the team standing to [illegible] based on a 10-5-4-3-2-1 computation for the first six places. Frank Stack of Winnipeg gained the fractional point for Canada by finishing in a tie for sixth place in a speed-skating event last week.

Sweden leads the 28 countries participating in the [illegible] day Olympic program which ends [illegible] today. The Swedes have [illegible] points compared with [illegible] for Switzerland, [illegible] for the United States, 51 for Austria and 46½ for Norway.

In winning the figure-skating championship Barbara Ann gained a total of 163.077 points on today's free-skating and the earlier compulsory figures combined almost 6½ points and 13 placings above the runner-up, Eva Pawlik of Austria.

But it didn't take the judges' verdict for the crowd to know Barbara Ann had won. The moment she stepped on the ice and took a few warm-up steps across the speed-skating track, they sensed they were watching the champion.

The two other Canadian entries, Marilyn Ruth Take and Suzanne Morrow, both of Toronto, tried hard but bad ice had them in difficulties along with nearly every other girl on the rink. Miss Take was 12th with 110 placings and 143.722 points, Miss Morrow 14th with 117 and 141.[illegible].

The new champion was precision personified, as cold as the ice on which she performed. But in the crowded dressing-room she thawed out and, radiantly happy with the big strain over, confessed to reporters that "I've never been so tired in my life."

"I was very careful. This was the chance I'd been waiting for all my life. I didn't want to miss it."

If Miss Scott was happy, her trainer, Sheldon Galbraith, was wildly exuberant.

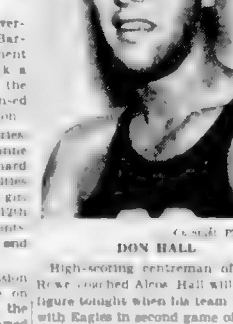

"Brother, it's wonderful," he shouted to everybody as he slung his arm around the girl he coached to the highest achievement in the sport.

"I'm very happy," said Barbara Ann's beaming mother, Mrs. Clyde Scott, as she pointed to a sheaf of telegrams and a mass of flowers which had already arrived from Canada.

"She waited years for this," said Mrs. Scott with a catch in her voice. "For years she has sacrificed good times and parties."

Mrs. Scott told reporters that Barbara Ann has no desire to turn professional and Barbara Ann herself said her answer "would be, I think, I want to remain an amateur."

Flyers Battle Czechs to Scoreless Tie To Run Unbeaten Streak to Six Games

By JACK SULLIVAN

ST. MORITZ, Feb. 6 (CP)—The announcement that hockey, stricken from the fifth Winter Olympic Games because of an internal dispute, will be recognized as an official event lent a cheery note to Canada's R.C.A.F. Flyers who today became favorites to win the hockey tournament by battling a strong Canadian-coached Czecho-Slovakian team to a scoreless tie.

The development in the disputed hockey picture came tonight when the International Olympic Committee decided to recognize the tournament as an Olympic tournament provided that the Amateur Hockey Association team representing the United States is counted out of the final standings.

Canada became a favorite for the tournament by winning the first five of its games and then battling to the draw with Czecho-Slovakia, picked by many as the team to beat.

The one point for the tie gave the Flyers and the Czechs 11 points each and left them one point behind Switzerland, leader with six straight victories.

But the R.C.A.F. team has a better goal average [illegible] for [illegible] Czecho-Slovakia's 69-14 [illegible] decide the winner if both [illegible] end the tournament Sunday tied in points. Switzerland has two tough [illegible] the Czechs tomorrow and Canada Sunday.

The R.C.A.F. stars tackle Austria [illegible] what should be an easy [illegible] and the Czechs should not be extended in their game against the United States Sunday.

Edmonton Club Said Situated On Oil Deposit

EDMONTON, Feb. 6 (CP)—The Edmonton Golf and Country Club may soon be in the money. Its 420 acres of fairways, greens and rough is believed to be sitting on top of oil-bearing Devonian limestone.

One official stated "we still want golfers, not speculators. This will remain a golf club, not a stock exchange."

It is believed that oil wells could be erected in roughs and [illegible] golfing could continue.

Wallace Kelk Dies

VANCOUVER, Feb. 6 (CP).—Wallace Kelk, 60, sports columnist and an authority on horse racing, died in hospital yesterday following a long illness.

He was secretary of the British Columbia Breeders' Association, editor of the magazine Turf and Paddock, and his column "The Brass Ring" was a feature of The Vancouver News-Herald.

Arthur Has "Second" for Show But Who Looks After Toughie?

Victoria wrestling fans may rest assured that Arthur the Alligator will perform only according to best Greco-Roman tradition and will be protected from harm by the attendance of an S.P.C.A. official. Arthur is the feature performer on Promoter Rocky Brooks' grapple card slated for the Bay Street Armoury tonight. The program also will provide three orthodox bouts that are definitely non-educational in nature.

Toughie Trusdale, evidently a student of grapple lore, will brave Arthur's lethal smile in an attempt to show the fans how to nab the elusive saurian and subdue him. Perchance Toughie has been reading the New Encyclopedia of Sports which states "Prehistoric man, realizing that he often might have to meet wild beasts in a close encounter and that the knowledge of effective grips was important, indulged in contests with members of his family, or some of his neighbors so that each could learn to grapple effectively with animals."

All this indicates no little athletic activity within and in the immediate environs of the Trusdale menage in preparation for tonight's contest. Whatever the outcome, the crowd is bound to be pleased.

Promoter Brooks was said to be slightly miffed when informed of a report that an S.P.C.A. representative would be on hand to see that no harm befell Arthur. No one professed any concern over what might and could happen to the daring Mr. Trusdale. After all, alligators are easier to replace than strong men willing to meet the over-sized lizards in honorable combat.

Buck Weaver will square off with "Gentleman" Tony Ross in the first portion of a double-feature dish while Cliff Parker and Milt Olsen entwine strenuously in the other serving. Nick Harris of Victoria and Vic Short of Seattle provide the entree.

Sooke Enters Hoopla Finals

Sooke entered the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League senior "B" finals by trouncing Saanichton Community Club 55-38 at the Saanichton Agricultural Hall last night. Winners won the opening game of the two-game total points series, 61-31 on their home floor on Tuesday to take the series 116-69 and will meet Langford in the final.

Cecil Handy, Saanichton, and E. and R. Michelson, Sooke, shared scoring honors with 14 points each.

J. Robertson potted 14 points to lead Sidney to a 30-19 triumph over Saanichton Community Club in a boys intermediate "B" tilt. Winners led at the half, 19-4.

In a preliminary exhibition contest, Saanichton girls defeated McMorran's, 17-10. Audrey Pearson sparked the winners with seven points, while Evelyn Neilson topped McMorran's with six.

Bruins, Rangers Trade Forwards

TORONTO, Feb. 6 (CP).—Billy "The Kid" Taylor, one of hockey's slickest stickhandlers, stepped into the National Hockey League's most-traded player class today.

Boston Bruins dealt the fair-haired [illegible] of Oshawa, Ont., to New York Rangers for dark-haired Grant (Knobby) Warwick. In addition, the Rangers get another player—as yet unnamed publicly—who will join them for the 1948-49 season.

For Taylor, who came into the N.H.L. with Toronto Maple Leafs in the 1939-40 season, it was the third trade in two years. His travels began at the start of last season when the Leafs sent him to Detroit Red Wings for leftwinger Harry Watson. Before this season began, the Red Wings traded him off to Boston for Bep Guidolin.

No Special Grant For Lawn Bowlers

No special grant will be given to city lawn bowling clubs this year by the [illegible] committee, Ald. M. Aubrey Kent, chairman, announced following a meeting yesterday.

The committee met delegations from the clubs operating bowling in Beacon Hill Park and Victoria West.

Both clubs will be given grants for maintenance of greens, $500 for the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club and $400 for the Victoria West Club, Ald. Kent said.

In addition, city workmen will be provided for the upkeep of grants in Beacon Hill Park, but the cost will be borne by the club.

Wests, Legion In Cup Match

McGavin Cup play opens at Royal Athletic Park this afternoon with Victoria West meeting the potent Canadian Legion eleven in the first game.

Vets have added further strength and will field a team including the Oxley brothers and Brooks. Complete Legion line up follows: Holt, Burt, G. Robbins, Heggie, Brown, G. Oxley, Brooks, Pennington, Pickup, S. Robbins, C. Robbins, McCormick, Duncan, Carmichael, Wellman and McCartney.

Wests have moved Gordy Cooper into the centre-forward berth and dropped Gordy Hobson back to right half. Bill Prior will be between the posts with Chick Newman and Bill Allen forming a capable fullback combination. Bill Hope and Don Knappett complete the half line while Len Scott and Tom Christenson patrol the right side and Roy Erickson and Jack Hutchinson the left. Spares are Dallimore, Okell, Gent, and Hudlin. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Babe Ruth Popularity Amazes; Bambino Still the Idol of Fans

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Feb 6 (AP). — We never cease to marvel at the unending popularity of Babe Ruth.

It's nearly 13 years now since he played his last game. He's weak, gaunt, and ailing, his voice a hoarse croak as he wages a stubborn [illegible] for health. Yet he still is a [illegible]

What other individual today could engender a spontaneous ovation from red caps, clerks and other railway station employees by his mere appearance? What other citizen would be greeted by a crowd of 150 persons on his arrival in Miami and bring toots of welcome from train whistles?

The President and his Cabinet members could stroll through Times Square without anyone giving them a tumble. Supreme Court justices could be dining beside you unrecognized.

But Babe Ruth could not walk half a block in any direction from where he happened to be without drawing a crowd. It isn't just the camel-hair coat and jauntily-dipped cap that set him apart. It's that intangible something which few possess—a something which draws the eye as a magnet, and then holds it in sudden recognition.

Sure he's been highly publicized. That huge, moon-like face and ever-familiar figure of heroic and distinctive proportions are familiar to the country at large—to kids to whom the Babe is a legendary figure of the Paul Bunyan order and to adults to whom he is quite real and quite unforgettable.

MEMORY LINGERS ON

But other sports figures have been widely publicized. Some sports figures attain a temporary fame and its accompanying recognition which fades like morning mist once they hang up their spikes or gloves or whatever denotes their activity. Truly, yesterday's hero almost invariably is today's forgotten man.

A few join the Babe in having that something which sets them apart.

Joe DiMaggio has it. He's a tall, broad-shouldered good-looking lug but there are other tall, broad-shouldered, good-looking ball players who fail to bring that gleam of recognition as they walk down the street or through a hotel lobby as does DiMaggio.

Ted Williams has it. The reluctant celebrity, tall and sinewy and handsome, has an unconscious magnetism that causes him to be pointed out where Ty Cobb, or Rogers Hornsby, or Bill Terry, or other great batters of the past would be overlooked.

DEMPSEY REMEMBERED

Jack Dempsey has it, almost to the degree of Ruth himself. The burly figure, the dark, intense face, the nervous restlessness stamp him as one apart, while other fistic figures of his era fade to the "who [illegible]

Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen have it. There is something about their pictures that makes them unforgettable, the jovial, carefree, almost arrogant demeanor of The Haig, the confidence, almost cockiness of the dark, trim Gene.

Byron Nelson doesn't have it, nor Ben Hogan, nor Bobby Locke. Take them away from the golf links and they'd escape recognition.

But the Babe remains king. In all comparisons he is the man who stands alone.

Shuttle Finals Slated Tonight

Cleveland Plans for Future By Signing Youngest Player

DETROIT, Feb 6 (AP).—John Blyth Nicol, 11-pound nipper of a defenceman, is under contract to Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

At the age of two months he is probably the youngest signed hockey player in the world.

His father and mother, Mr and Mrs. John Nicol, are good friends of Al Sutphin, owner of the Barons, a shrewd assayer of hockey talent. When Jack Reay, Cleveland scout, reported young John's arrival, Sutphin mailed a contract.

"You may sign this contract at your convenience, say in eight or ten years," Sutphin wrote.

The Cleveland boss offered his new player—who is expected to join the 1967 Barons—a $5 signature bonus. The basic contract calls for a $4 annual salary, plus 1 for training camp and exhibition work.

An autographed hockey stick was thrown in by Sutphin as additional signature bait.

At his first press conference, when photographers snapped him with contract in hand, youthful John had trouble with his orange juice. Moreover, in a burst of athletic temperament he indicated he didn't like cameramen around the house.

The fish taken the last week have been very few; some of the fishermen have reported the odd one hooked have been dark fish. Hal[illegible] River has shown best results during the week.

QUALICUM DETACHMENT

Steelhead fishing has been good the past two weeks in this area and by results to date it looks like a record year for the number of steelhead taken from the Little Qualicum, at least.

Why is it that SHERRY wine...

1 makes the best 'Before-dinner' appetizer

Wine just naturally goes with food.
And a good Sherry — like Bright's "74" — is the kind you use just before dinner to give appetites a friendly nudge. Served either alone, or in company with tiny, sizzling pork sausages or other titbits, it puts a keen edge on appetites.

2 is used so often in cooking

Yes, Sherry "74" goes just as well in food as with it. When used in soups, sauces and with meats it imparts a nutty flavour that is most tantalizing.

Do You keep a small stock of Bright's SHERRY "74" at home?

You've an important discovery ahead when you find the pleasure that comes from joining wine with food.

Because good wines, like Bright's, are inexpensive — because a moderate glass of flavourful Sherry "74" is always a gracious note of hospitality — you should have a small wine "cellar" of your own. And a good start would be with a favourite in so many homes.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

CHATTERER HAS HIS TURN TO LAUGH

Sammy Jay had not been up to the Old Orchard for several days, and Chatterer the Red Squirrel was beginning to wonder if Sammy had grown tired of corn. But Chatterer had learned that it always is best to be prepared; so, every morning when he visited Farmer Brown's corncrib he brought a generous supply back to the Old Orchard and hid it in several secret places in different parts of the old stone wall and some in a certain hollow in an old apple tree. Chatterer couldn't quite believe that Sammy had given up all hope of making him more trouble, so he meant to be prepared.

So when Sammy did appear early one morning Chatterer was not in the least surprised. He pretended to be glad to see Sammy. In fact, he almost was glad. You see, Sammy had so many times proved his wits to be sharper than Chatterer's that Chatterer wanted to get even. Now, when Sammy first made Chatterer promise to get corn for him whenever he wanted it, Sammy had thought only of the easy way it would be to get all the corn he wanted without working for it. Afterward, he had thought more of the fun of seeing Chatterer in trouble getting it; so, when Chatterer had at last found a way of always having the corn ready without running any risk at all, Sammy had spent all his spare time trying to think of some way to upset Chatterer's simple plan. He had noticed that Chatterer always got the corn for him from a certain hiding place under the stones of the old wall. All in a flash a plan had popped into his head—a plan to give Chatterer such a fright that he would not dare visit that hiding place again in a hurry. Then, of course, Sammy would have the fun of seeing Chatterer steal the corn from the corncrib right under the nose of Farmer Brown's boy, as he had before.

So there was a sparkle of mischief in Sammy's eyes as he came up to the Old Orchard that morning. Chatterer saw it right away and he guessed that Sammy had some new plan under that pert cap of his.

"I believe I will," replied Sammy, also pretending to be very polite.

"Good morning, Sammy Jay," said Chatterer, pretending to be polite. "I had begun to think that you were tired of corn. I have some very nice corn ready for you, the very best I could find in Farmer Brown's cornerib. Will you have some this morning?"

"I believe I will," replied Sammy, also pretending to be very polite. "It is very nice of you to pick out the best corn for me, and the very thought of it makes me hurry. I believe I would like some this very minute."

As he spoke he turned his head to hide a grin, for, thought he, "of course, Chatterer will go straight to that hiding place in the Old Stone-wall and then we shall see some fun." He glanced hastily in that direction and he saw a patch of red half hidden behind the wall, and he knew that it was the red coat of Reddy Fox. Reddy was hiding just where Sammy had told him to.

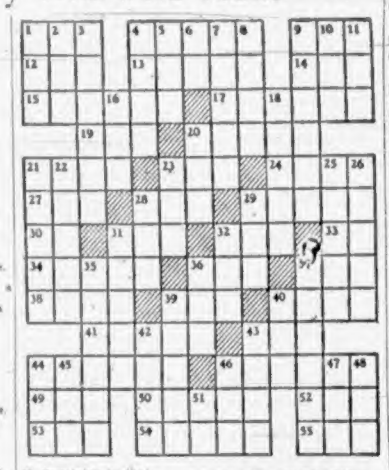

Now, Chatterer had been doing some quick thinking. He remembered the sharp tricks Sammy had played on him before, and he didn't have the least doubt that Sammy had planned another. "Of course, he expected me to go straight to that place where he knows I have hidden corn for him, and, if he has planned any trouble for me, that is where it will be," thought Chatterer, "I think I'll get the corn from one of the hiding places he doesn't know about."

With that Chatterer ran swiftly out along the branch of the tree he was in, leaped across to another tree, and then to a third, the one in which was the hollow in which he had put some of the corn. In a few minutes he was back, with his cheeks stuffed full. Sammy Jay pretended to be very much pleased, but he ate it as if he had lost his appetite, as indeed, he had. You see, he was wondering what he should say to Reddy Fox, to whom he had promised a chance to catch Chatterer. He knew that Reddy would think that it was all one of Sammy's tricks. So, without waiting to finish all the corn, Sammy politely said good-bye and flew away to the deepest part of the Green Forest.

"Ha, ha, ha." "Ho, ho, ho," laughed Chatterer, as his sharp eyes spied Reddy Fox trying to creep away without being seen. "Ha, ha, ha. Ho, ho, ho. It's my turn to laugh. Ha, ha, ha. Ho, ho, ho."

LUCKY FOR LOVE

By JANE DIXON

COPYRIGHT 1940, BY JANE DIXON

CHAPTER III—Continued

Twilight was spreading a lavender blanket over Millville. The edges of the blanket turned purple. Soon it would be dark velvet. On the Marsh veranda Marilyn pondered on the present, peered into the future, answered occasional questions popped at her by young Bill.

"Hey, Sis, wake up, will ya?" Bill brought her back from a column of figures she was adding mentally. "I asked you twice, did you see ol' Clar step out after supper?"

"No, Bill, I didn't notice. I was in my room."

"Boy, was she dolled up! You could smell her a mile, with all that junk she squirts on her. Bet she went lookin' for that theatre fellow. Say whyn't she let him come lookin' for her? Men don't like girls taggin' after 'em."

Marilyn said laughingly, "Oh, so men don't like girls tagging after them? Since when have you become an expert on the affairs of men? You've had experience?"

"Ah quit kiddin'." Bill scuffed his toes. "She's nuts about that ol' theatre jellyfish."

"Bill, don't be like that. You don't know the man. Why do you call him a jellyfish?"

"Well, he must be a jellyfish or he wouldn't fall for that la-de-dah stuff ol' Clar puts out. She makes me sick, moonin' 'round and making faces at herself in the looking glass. Hey, look, somebody's coming up the walk. It's a man. You expecting a boy friend?"

"No, Bill. Probably a friend of Dad's."

The man came into the lane of light that shone out through the front door—the man who had been in the Silver Grill with Clara! Marilyn drew back into the shadows.

"Hello, young fellow," the visitor greeted Bill who was standing agap on the top step. "Are you Bill Marsh?"

"Sure." Bill was being important, none too friendly.

"Good guess. Then you'd be the brother of Miss Clara Marsh. Does she happen to be at home this evening?"

"No, she's out. Went out right after supper."

"You wouldn't know, by chance, where I might find her?"

"You're right, I don't know. Clara wouldn't tell me the time o' day."

"No? That's not very sporting of her. The time of the day can be pretty important to a fellow. Sorry I missed your sister. We had an appointment. Must have been a mix-up. I understood I was to call for her here."

Bill melted under the ingratiating manner of the visitor.

"Maybe you'd better come up on the porch and wait," he offered. "My other sister, Marilyn, is here. Maybe you could talk with her till Clara turns up. Hey, Marilyn—Sis—here's a man to see Clara."

"That's it." To the visitor. "What did you say your name is, please?"

"Martino. Al Martino. At your service."

Marilyn emerged from the shadows. The light from the hall touched her hair to a shining halo.

Bill announced solemnly, "Sis, this is Mister Martino. And this is my hesitated on the steps.

"Am I intruding?" Al Martino hesitated on the stipes.

"Oh, no—no indeed." (Marilyn thought: Bill needs strangling). "I'll try to locate Clara. I'll try the phone."

"Please don't." The words hinted of a plea. "She's sure to be back presently. Meantime, if you don't mind a bit of a chat—you know I've been hoping I'd meet you. In fact, I made up my mind day before yesterday, when I saw you lunching in the Silver Grill, that I would not leave Millville until I did meet you."

CHAPTER IV

The surprise visit on the veranda was the start of Al Martino's pursuit of Marilyn Marsh. There was nothing subtle about his methods. Frankly he was infatuated. He made no attempt to conceal his infatuation. He bombarded her with invitations, with thoughtful and well-chosen gifts of candy, flowers, books—the conventional presents of a proper young man. He prolonged his stay in Millville long past the necessity of business.

"Please," she begged him, when the atmosphere in the Marsh home became almost unendurable. "I'm not interested in you, Al, I like you well enough, but there are—circumstances I can't explain. Be a lamb, will you, and let's just nod as we pass by?"

"I don't like lambs." Al was stubborn. They bleat."

"But if I tell you you're making a lot of trouble for me, for all of us? I must ask you not to try to see me again and not to send me another gift. I'd have to return it, and I hate hurting people."

Firm Boosts Scholarship

Increase in the Sidney Roofing & Paper Company scholarship from $100 to $250 to the highest ranking student in second year at Victoria College was announced yesterday by A. Welch, general manager, and R. T. Wallace, acting chairman of the scholarship committee.

[illegible] award now being given at the college. It has been given for the past five years by the company and has been won by Gerald R. Wyatt, Donald L. Holmes, Gertrude Lee, Michael Creel and Margaret Wright.

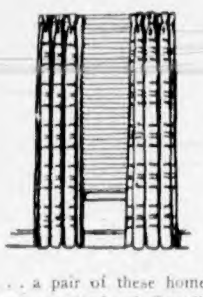

Members of the Victoria College Council, in approving the scholarship, expressed their gratification at the lead taken by the industry. Mr. Wallace emphasized the value which the award will bring to a student, pointing out that it costs $600 to $1,000 to maintain a student for the school year if he lives away from home.

Hometown Boy Succeeds By Remaining at Home

CLEMENT C. AVARD

Clement C. Avard is living proof that a young man doesn't have to leave his home town for the big city to be a business success, make money or gain respect.

Mr. Avard and his wife are in Victoria for their first real holiday in 46 years since he started out in 1902 by forming The Sackville, N.B., Tribune, a semi-weekly paper in a town of 3,000.

The fortunes of The Sackville Tribune are a good index to the progress of its friendly and cheerful founder. Mr. Avard started out $1,400 in the red. He sold the paper and printing business for $200,000.

This isn't all by any means, but the tall (at least six feet three inches) Mr. Avard is reticent about his accomplishments, and the best indication of his enterprise during an interview in the Glenshiell Hotel yesterday was a stack of business mail that has followed him to Victoria since he arrived January 26.

"I strayed away into various enterprises, many activities," he recalled. The enterprises include being director and stockholder on the Enamel & Heating Products, Ltd., which owns the Albion Foundry here, president of the Brown-Holder Biscuit Co. in Moncton and the Moncton Cold & General Storage Company.

He is a director and member of the executive of the Central Trust Co. at Moncton and a director of Atlantic Wholesalers, Ltd.

All this was done with a base of operations from a town of 3,000 people, and the hard way because he was born nearby.

"As a rule, I'm rather in favor of transplanting people," he believes. "Its harder sometimes to make a success in the home town. Everyone knows you and your background and relatives."

Most of Mr. Avard's class ('98) at Mount Allison University in Sackville were transplanted, and he is almost the only one who stayed at home. He was a member of the board of regents of the university for 35 years and chairman for five years.

FUR FARMER

One of the activities he strayed away into was fur farming, being a partner in a fur farm with Lowell Thomas, news analyst, and a promoter of Canada Fur Farmers, Ltd.

Before starting this business odyssey of the Maritimes, he taught school for a few years and was admitted to the bar in 1901 after graduation from Dalhousie, where he went after taking his M.A. at Mount Allison in 1900. For a B.A. he honored in science. And he was mayor of Sackville for a term.

Mr. Avard and his wife expect to leave Victoria about February 25 to head back home after the long-due holiday, but in the meantime he is taking care of another interest —books on the Maritimes, which he has been collecting in city book shops and adding to the pile of business papers and letters accumulating in spite of the holiday.

Speaker Takes Gloomy View Of Trade Pact

A gloomy picture of the effectiveness of the charter worked out by the International Trade Organization at Geneva last Summer was painted Thursday night by Prof. H. F. Angus, a member of the Canadian delegation to the conference and head of the department of economics at the University of British Columbia.

Speaking to the Victoria Branch of the Institute of International Affairs at the Union Club, he pointed out that Canada had already been forced to violate the agreement in its dollar conservation program. Canada was not brought to task by the other signatories because she introduced the program under an escape clause in the charter, which provided that a country with balance of trade difficulties "could do almost anything."

Such special provisions to deal with special circumstances in the participating countries had largely vitiated the broad principles of multi-lateral international trade and the avoidance of trade preferences and restrictions which were the basis of the charter.

It could not become really effective until trade was flowing freely between nations and uuntil there was a condition of general equilibrium in trade balances among the nations.

Dislocation caused by the war had been greater than expected and relief and reconstruction financing had been too skimpy, Prof. Angus suggested. The result was the charter attempted to be a roof on a shaky substructure, to which the Marshall plan might add some reinforcing.

Unlicensed Cyclists Face Action

Acting Police Chief John Blackstock yesterday warned bicycle owners in the city that action would be taken by his department on Monday against all cyclists who have failed to purchase 1948 licences.

He pointed out that only a small percentage of last year's total of licences have been renewed this year. Licences for 1947 expired on October 31, 1947.

Tax officials in the City Hall yesterday said 6,010 bicycle licences were issued last year. To date only 2,059 have been renewed, it was reported. Licences may be obtained in the taxation department of the City Hall.

Okanagan Region Gets New Houses

Contracts with Wartime Housing Ltd. for erection of 200 dwelling units in Okanagan district were ratified by Provincial Government orders signed yesterday.

Covering 100 houses in each case, contracts will be entered into by Vernon city council and Penticton district council.

Agreements established terms equivalent to the granting of fixed taxation for periods of 40 years.

Cabbage Price Below Ceiling

With two carloads of United States cabbage now on the market, cabbage sales are going well and prices are remaining below the ceiling price as long as buying prices remain low, according to city wholesalers.

Majority of retail stores are selling cabbages for 7 cents while the ceiling price is 9 cents.

Wholesalers say Brussels sprouts and cauliflower are scarce, and only about one month's supply of Canadian carrots remains for the whole of Canada.

Regular shipments of onions are being exported from Victoria and Vancouver to Washington and large quantities of Alberta and British Columbia potatoes are being shipped to Seattle.

Thief Trades Radio For Electric Drill

The theory that a "fair exchange is no robbery" must have motivated the thief who stole an electric drill, valued at $75, from the automobile of W. A. Colebank, R.R. 3, on Wednesday night.

The culprit escaped with the drill, but left in its place a small mantel model radio. Mr. Colebank brought the radio to police headquarters.

Traffic Charges Enrich Saanich

A total of $270 was collected in Saanich Police Court Thursday in fines for minor traffic infractions. Eight motorists paid $15 each for exceeding the 30-mile-per-hour speed limit and another paid a similar fine for exceeding the limit in a 15-mile-per-hour zone. Ten were fined $10 each when they pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit through school zones and three others paid fines of $10 each for passing over a double line. For failing to have the current year's driver's licence a driver was fined $5.

Pleading guilty to a charge of permitting horses to run at large, Martin Cooper, West Saanich Road, was fined $10. The offence took place on January 22.

COLWYN BAY, Wales (CP).—The National Eisteddfod held here last August collected record receipts of £29,511 ($118,044) and a surplus of £8,331.

Herring Grounds Closed In Ogden Channel Today

Marine News

Herring fishing at Ogden Channel, near Prince Rupert, which has been supplying phenomenal catches for canning and reduction since January 22, will be terminated at noon today, when the northern area is closed.

To date, according to a report to The Colonist, Ogden Channel has produced about 30,000 tons of fish in less than two weeks. Large schools continue to work their way into the channel from Hecate Strait. Of the fish left after closure of the grounds, some are expected to enter Kitkatlah Inlet and others will move north through Ogden Channel into the Prince Rupert area for spawning.

Catches up to 31,000 tons may still be made in commercial fishing acreas 6 to 10 (Wright Sound to Smith Inlet)) and in areas 1 and 2 (Queen Charlotte Islands) until March 10.

Several Victoria fishing vessels have joined the large fleet operating in Ogden Channel. They include the Co-operator IV, owned by Kyuquot Trollers' Co-operative Association and Vinetta Prince, owned by Adolph Prince. Both vessels are packers.

Subsidy Being Sought

Victoria local of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union will request a Federal Government subsidy for line ling cod fishing in the Gulf of Georgia, it was learned yesterday.

The fishery is said to be suffering by competition from otter trawlers and longline operations.

Decision to seek aid from the Government was made at a meeting of the local organization, according to Elgin Neish, president. The subsidy, if granted, would come from the Dominion Government Fisheries Prices' Support Board.

Members went on record as supporting the Sidney local in its request that Roberts Bay, rather than Sidney, be the site of a $350,000 breakwater being considered by the Dominion Government. The Roberts Bay location, it was claimed, is more sheltered and would be more suitable for establishment of a breakwater.

The meeting also endorsed the new draft agreement calling for a 30-cent-an-hour increase in wages for the shoreworkers' section of the union. Such an increase would be justified, it was felt, in view of the increasing cost of living. In this connection, the secretary was instructed to wire the Prime Minister and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., asking for an immediate reinstitution of price controls.

Sails Monday

The Dominion's first immigration ship, Canadian Pacific Steamships' Diesel-electric liner Beaverbrae, will sail from Saint John, N.B., tomorrow and from Halifax Monday for London and Bremerhaven, Germany.

Formerly a German submarine depot-repair vessel, she has been completely reconditioned and now has accommodation for 773 displaced persons and other immigrants each westbound voyage. The ship was turned over to Canada as a part reparation payment.

Her skipper is Capt. G. O. Baugh, O.B.E., R.D., Vancouver. Among the crew is T. MacDuff, of Victoria, chief officer.

Rejoins Ship

Inspector H. A. Larsen, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, whose home is in Victoria, expects to leave this city in April to rejoin the patrol ship St. Roch, of which he is in command.

He returned to his home last Christmas Eve from his ship which was frozen in near Herschel Island off the mouth of the Mackenzie River. At present, it is reported, the ship has only four men aboard. Additional men will join the vessel when she sails again.

It is possible, reports Inspector Larsen, his ship may remain in the northern waters for another year.

Cabinet Told City Hospital Finances In Dire Straits With High Deficits

Pressing needs of Victoria hospitals for financial assistance to enable them to meet demands of creditors were laid before Provincial Cabinet yesterday by a delegation representing the boards of Royal Jubilee Hospital, St. Joseph's Hospital and Queen Alexandra Solarium.

The Government, urged by the delegation to establish ways and means of protecting hospitals from having to make pleas "as if they were mendicants," was told that Jubilee last year went into debt to the amount of $80,000, and saw no prospect of taking it out of the patients of 1948 or of subsequent years.

Recently the Government made a special grant to hospitals of $550,000, of which $250,000 was to be used to provide an extra 30 cents per patient day for all hospitals from July 1 to December 31, and the remaining $300,000 to assist in meeting deficits of those facing a financial emergency.

Yesterday's delegation told Cabinet that Jubilee needed $17,000 and St. Joseph's $12,000 to place them in sound financial position, and urged the Government to consider their needs in division of the $300,000.

COSTS MOUNTING

It was emphasized that hospitals had faced a difficult problem in the past two years in keeping pace with rapidly mounting costs, and that it was not feasible for each individual hospital to assess cost of operating public and semi-private rooms from month to month and fix charges to the public accordingly.

"It can be done and it may have to be done . . . but it would involve endless explanation to the public and possibly wide difference in charges by hospitals in the same area, due to varying circumstances," the brief pointed out.

"The Victoria hospitals have now increased their rates $2 a day all round. Who can say how long the new rates will be sufficient to cover further advances in costs and reduced revenues due to the now oppressive charges?"

Dealing with broad aspects of hospital finance, the brief suggested that if government and municipal grants were intended as a subsidy to hospitals to keep charges to the public within bounds, then the present method would be satisfactory only if subsidy were based on costs in 1948 instead of 1924, when the Hospital Act was passed.

If it was intended to cover cost of hospital care of indigents, the delegation submitted that the whole of that cost should be borne by government and local authorities.

"It is surely not the responsibility of hospitals or of the paying patients, who have enough to do to pay their own bills."

DEFICIT HIGH

On behalf of the Solarium, it was pointed out that only 25 per cent of operating income was derived from patients' fees. Operating deficit of the Solarium in 1946 was shown at $7,348, and actual deficit last year at $10,655. Deficit for 1948 was estimated at $50,000.

"If capital funds have to be used for operating deficits," the brief said, "these funds will be rapidly exhausted and the Solarium will break faith with people who have bequeathed money for specified purposes.

"It will be impossible to raise an additional $70,000 a year from public donations, and unless the Government can make substantial annual grants for current expenses the continued operation of the Solarium will be difficult."

Brief for the three institutions was presented by E. W. McMullen, Jubilee Hospital honorary treasurer. The delegation included J. L. Hobbs, chairman of Jubilee board; W. L. Woodhouse and Alex McDermott, representing St. Joseph's, and Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Solarium finance committee.

Ship Sinks

A ship which sprang a leak en route from Olympia, Wash., to Portland, sank at a pier in Astoria yesterday and blocked the pier to loading.

The vessel, the former navy hospital ship U.S.S. Refuge, was being towed to Swan Island shipyard at Portland for scrapping. She sprang a leak off Willapa Harbor yesterday and after docking here, settled until her stern touched the river bottom.

City Is Growing Younger In Population, Club Told

It might sound unusual, but Victoria is growing younger.

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, city medical health officer, made note of this in an address to the Lions Club yesterday at the Empress Hotel.

"The character of Victoria's population has changed considerably in the past five years. It is now a city of younger people."

By way of illustration he compared birth-rate figures. In 1920 about 1,000 babies were born in this city. A gradual increase continued until 1935. During the war years the total jumped tremendously, and today close to 2,500 new citizens are joining the population annually.

And in the meantime, he added, the death rate is remaining level.

Infant mortality is being sharply reduced. Between 50 and 60 of every 1,000 babies born in 1920 did not complete their first year of life. That picture has changed, and today the rate is 34.4 per 1,000.

Among more important reasons for the improved situation, said Dr. Anderson, is the careful and scientific attention being given mothers and children.

The address included mention of organized community health efforts, hospitals, need for additional nursing homes in the area, attention being given water and milk supplies and restaurant sanitation, and need for individual attention toward better health.

Home for Aged Fund Nets $1,570 to Date

A $100,000 fund to provide adequate housing for the city's aged is the objective of the Senior Citizens' Welfare Society, and $1,507 has already been donated.

Dr. Richard Felton told the first annual meeting of the society Thursday at the home of Miss Sara Spencer that the money is intended for a home for the aged. Salvage Corps has given $1,300 and the Quota Club, $207.

Directors elected were Dr. M. Sherman, Miss Spencer, Cyril Jones, Mrs. A. C. Ross, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., George Wilkinson, Mrs. D. Heddle, Mrs. C. D. Schofield, R. Cawley and Miss M. Baird.

Advisability of paying high building costs instead of waiting for prices to drop was discussed after Mrs. Hodges said she did not think it advisable to consider a new building while costs are high.

"If others can build such things as post offices and city halls, I don't think we should flinch at the price," declared Mrs. J. O. Clay, pointing out that housing for the aged is "already out of hand" with at least 100 persons in need of suitable accommodation.

City Firm Wins Track Contract

Sees Good Will Vital to India

Good will on all sides could cure present headaches in India, believes Major-General R. P. L. Ranking, C.B., C.B.E., M.C., former Indian army officer now in Victoria.

Gandhi's death will make things more difficult but if conditions are settled both the dominions of India and Pakistan should be able to develop economically under their new status, General Ranking said.

A member of the Indian army for 32 years and a veteran of service in North Africa, Greece, Assam and North Burma, he is now on the British Services Special List. He left Bombay January 2. His wife's sister, Mrs. A. Elder, is now living here.

Margarine Sale Plan Criticized

Sale of oleomargarine in Canada would seriously affect the dairy industry and the 2,000,000 people dependent on it, George W. Malcolm, secretary of the Island Farms Co-operative Association, said yesterday on his return from the annual meeting of the Dairy Farmers' of Canada at Brockville, Ont.

"Under normal conditions Canadian dairy farmers can produce ample butter for domestic consumption and it could be sold at a fair price to everyone," he declared, adding that oils for the manufacture of a butter substitute could not be produced in Canada.

"Tell me Doctor . . . What do you mean by a safe antiseptic?"

To be called safe an antiseptic must be safe in several ways. It must be reliable, it must be gentle, it must be non-poisonous. It must help, not hinder, the natural processes of healing and repair. 'Dettol', the modern antiseptic, is a highly efficient destroyer of germs, but it works on the germs, not you. It is non-poisonous, pleasant, safe to have around.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest . .

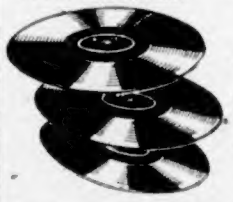

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on 'nerves'—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better. 134

Heroism of Duncan Man Shown in V.C. Citation

Major Charles Ferguson Hoey, 30, was posthumously awarded the Victoria Cross four years ago on February 17, 1944.

The fearless British major from Duncan gave his life in a heroic charge through a hail of machine-gun fire to annihilate the garrison of a Japanese-held hill on the Burma front.

For his outstanding gallantry, leadership and total disregard for personal safety he was posthumously awarded the Victoria Cross.

His citation, in part, reads: "After a night march through enemy-held territory the force was met at the foot of the position by heavy machine-gun fire . . . Although wounded at least twice in the leg and head, he seized a Bren gun from one of his men, and, firing from the hip, led his company on to the objective.

"In spite of his wounds the company had difficulty in keeping up with him, and Major Hoey reached the enemy strongpost first, where he killed all of the occupants before being mortally wounded."

It was not the first time this brave soldier had demonstrated his courage and leadership. On July 5, 1942, for his part in a raid on Maungdaw, Burma, he was awarded the Military Cross, while a few months previous he had been mentioned in dispatches after another Burma action.

Major Hoey received his early education at Duncan, and went to England in 19[illegible] to make a career of the army. Following his graduation in 1937 from Sandhurst, he was commissioned in the Lincolnshire Regiment. He was serving on the northwest frontier in India when the World War broke out.
